School Board Members Resign Following Failure of By-Laws on New School Plan: "An Impossible Situation," Trustees Say

Action Taken As Protest—"Impossible To Meet New Curriculum"

City Council Is Given Criticism

Just as this issue went to press this morning, Chairman Hamilton Lang informed The Vernon News that he would include his resignation with those of the four other members, and that the immediate retirement of the whole board would be announced to the City Council.

As a direct result of the loss of the two by-laws submitted on Thursday of last week, which were intended to authorize the purchase of a site, and the construction of a new 18-room school, Vernon's entire Board of School Trustees is resigning.

At a meeting of the Board late on Monday afternoon, the resignations of Trustees Joe Harwood, K. W. Kinnard, Dr. J. S. Brown, and Percy E. French were presented to the chairman, Hamilton Lang.

Mr. Lang explained that he himself would follow the action of the other trustees, and that he would continue to act as chairman only until certain legal requirements as regards the resignations, and the arrangements for the election of successors, were completed.

That it will be impossible now to carry out the terms of the new curriculum as drafted by the provincial government, and his resignation, in most centres of this size, was a contention stressed by the Board.

Trustee French was unavoidably absent from the meeting, but his resignation had been presented in writing. He had made clear his intention of resigning at a meeting held on the previous Friday, on the day following the balloting.

It was stated by all of them that they would be willing to carry on in a routine way during the interval before a new Board comes into being, but that they could not continue to do more than that.

"I'm very sorry that it seems necessary to take this course," commented Trustee Kinnard, in tendering his resignation. He explained that if the others had been agreeable, he would have been disposed to serve until the end of the year, which is not now far distant.

"However, the Board as a whole seems to think that that would not offer a sufficient protest against the situation that has arisen," he added, "and I shall support the action taken by the other members."

At any rate, he said, he would not have served longer than the end of the year.

"What Now?" Asks Vernon Regarding School Issue

"What now?" is naturally the question that Vernon people are asking, as a result of the resignation of four of its School Trustees, and the announced further resignation of the only remaining member, Chairman Hamilton Lang, whose retirement will take effect as soon as further arrangements to carry on the work of the Board are set in motion.

It is explained that, in the event of any trustee resigning, the City Council is required by the School Act to arrange for an election within a month of such resignation. If the City Council should fail to do so, the School Board can notify the Council of Public Instruction at Victoria, which body is then empowered to take the necessary steps to arrange for a successor.

In this case four of the Trustees have resigned, and, though the fifth member of the Board, Chairman Hamilton Lang, has announced his intention of following suit, he is continuing meanwhile, to "bridge the gap," and it will be he who will present the resignations of the other Trustees to the City Council. To all intents and purposes, Mr. Lang remains as a one-man School Board during the interval.

The four resignations were tendered at a meeting of the Board held too late on Monday to make it possible for their being presented to the City Council at the regular meeting that evening.

The result is that the Council has not yet officially had an opportunity of acting on the new development.

The probability is that the Vernon City Council will take up the matter with the Council of Public Instruction at Victoria, before any course is adopted.

The fact that the whole Board is going out, and, in addition, the fact that it is very close to the end of the year, gives some awkwardness to the situation.

Trustees K. W. Kinnard and P. E. French have still a year and four months of their two-year terms to fill. Possibly successors could now be selected to replace them. But the terms of the other three trustees, J. Harwood, Dr. J. S. Brown, and Hamilton Lang, expire in four months' time, and it seems hardly likely that any candidates would consent to stand for office for so short a period.

Some concessions from usual practice might be made in this case, or they might not. Whatever readjustment is to be made is as yet uncertain.

For the present, the prospect is rather tangled, and the next few weeks should be extremely interesting, so far as school matters are concerned.

Vernon to Vote on Sports Arena Project on Oct. 22: Civic Ownership is Plan

By-Law To Authorize Borrowing Of $30,000 Will Be Submitted Soon

A plebiscite will be taken on October 22 next to authorize the borrowing of $30,000 for the erection in Vernon this winter of a civic sports arena.

Building By-Law Fails To Secure Three-Fifths Majority By 30 Votes

Site By-Law Is Clean-Cut Loss

Opposition Confined To No Particular Class, States Board

Vernon voters who went to the polls on Thursday of last week defeated the two by-laws presented for the purpose of securing a site and for building a new 18-room school.

The site, off Seventh Street, which would have cost $10,700 was turned down by a straight majority, 263 voting in favor, 298 against, with 5 spoiled ballots.

The building program, of $69,300, which would have been supported to the extent of $34,000 by the provincial government, was endorsed by a straight majority of 312 to 260, with 3 spoiled ballots; but the favorable vote was 30 short of the necessary three-fifths majority.

There were 575 voters who registered an opinion on this vote, which compares favorably with the numbers who have gone to the polls on past occasions, when by-laws were offered at any other time than the annual municipal election.

Second Time Turned Down This was the second time that the new school proposal was refused. Last May a by-law in which the building and site costs were combined, was lost by 228 to 221, with 2 spoiled ballots, a total of 449 votes.

An analysis of the vote, taken afterwards, leads the Board to the opinion that a general cross-section of all areas and all classes of local people went to record an opinion on this issue.

"Opposition to the plan seemed to be centered in no particular section or class of people," is an opinion offered by Trustee Kinnard. "The opposing vote was, so far as we can judge from tallying the lists, sprinkled generally throughout the voters."

Queried by The Vernon News, City Clerk J. W. Wright stated that, to the best of his knowledge, the school by-laws, presented in May, and again last week, were the only ones that have failed to be endorsed in the past twenty years.

POLICE CHECKING UP ON CARS HERE

Motor Traffic Branch Officers Conducted Tests For Brakes And Lights

Under charge of Inspector G. A. Hood, of Victoria, officers of the Provincial Police motor traffic branch have been engaged in a close check-up of brakes and lights on automobiles in Vernon this week.

While final results are not yet available, it is reported that a large percentage of cars and trucks had either defective lights or brakes, or both.

On Tuesday afternoon and evening vehicles were stopped on Main Avenue, and on Wednesday officers checked up at Seventh Street and on the Lumby road.

In addition to local officers, those assisting in the check-up include: Sergeant MacDonald, of Vancouver; Sergeant MacNaughton, of Vancouver; Constable Locke, of Victoria; Sergeant H. H. Pegler, of Kamloops, mechanical supervisor; and Constable J. A. Carmichael, of Kamloops, highway patrol traffic officer.

Three Premises Invaded Here Monday Morning: Believed Work of Gang

Neil & Neil and Creamery Premises Entered But Nothing Stolen

Attempt Made To Blow Two Safes

Thieves Secured Only Small Amount of Gold From Dental Office

Thought by police to have been the work of one gang, three robberies occurred here during the early morning hours of Monday last, but except for a small amount of dental gold taken from one office, the thieves obtained nothing for their efforts.

The places broken into were the Okanagan Valley Co-operative Creamery plant on Montrose Street, Neil & Neil Ltd., on Eighth Street, and the office of Dr. J. S. Brown in the Russell Block.

In each case entrance was gained by breaking part of a pane of glass and opening the lock from the inside. Dental gold, valued at from $25 to $50, was taken from Dr. Brown's premises, but in the other two cases nothing was stolen.

The combination on one of Neil & Neil's safes was pounded off with a sledge hammer, but the door was not opened. The safe was damaged to the extent of about $200, it is said.

First knowledge of the attempted robberies was gained by police shortly after 8 o'clock Monday morning when Russell Neil opened his business premises. He immediately notified Constable O. L. Hall and Constable Art Wales.

Lumby Resident Takes Own Life

A. J. Sirois Found On Creighton Valley Road With Rifle Beside Him—Left Note Telling of His Intention To Commit Suicide—Had Suffered From Eye Trouble Lately

LUMBY, B.C., Sept. 29.—Residents of Lumby were shocked to hear of the death of A. J. Sirois, widely known as "Ed," which evidently occurred at noon on Monday, the body being discovered about 3 p.m. lying in a ditch on the Creighton Valley Road near the east fence of R. A. Copeland's Ranch and the Laviolette Ranch. A rifle was found beside the body.

"Chick" Christensen saw the body while hauling poles from Creighton Valley and immediately reported to Constable Quessell, who got in touch with police headquarters in Vernon and Dr. O. Morris, the coroner, who, after viewing the body, and discovering a note thereon declaring the deceased's intention of committing suicide, found no inquest was necessary. Dr. Morris conducted an inquiry, however, the finding of which was that Mr. Sirois had taken his own life.

A French-Canadian Mr. Sirois was born in New Brunswick, near St. John's, and celebrated his 60th birthday this summer.

Of independent means he had much time on his hands, and, being fond of shooting it was at first thought he might have met death by an accident, but the letter found stated that owing to the pain in his eye he felt he wished to end life, and gave instructions regarding his people, of whom it is known he had a brother and two sisters living in the east.

It is understood Mr. Sirois had visited an eye specialist and received treatment last week.

Men working on the Laviolette Ranch while having their mid-day meal heard a rifle shot, but attached no significance to it, so that the body had been lying there from 12:30 to 3 p.m. before being discovered.

It was taken to the undertaking parlors in Vernon after the coroner's finding.

The deceased was popular and a well known bachelor who had lived in Lumby for a great number of years. The authorities will no doubt try to get into communication with his relatives.

VERNON, KELOWNA GOLFERS IN DRAW ON LOCAL COURSE

In an inter-club match over the local course on Sunday last between Kelowna and Vernon golfers, the teams emerged all even with 22½ points each on the day's play.

The Vernon men were three points up with 10½ as their score for the morning's twosomes, but Kelowna scored 15 points to the local men's 12 in the afternoon foursomes.

Dr. S. Hannah was the individual star of the day, with a blazing score of 99 for the eighteen holes, the lowest total in the since the course was altered. His scores were 33 for the morning round and 36 in the afternoon.

Playing a foursome with Walter Lefroy against Chester Owen and Harry Todd, of Kelowna, the Vernon men scored three birdies each, and Dr. Hannah had one on the morning round, to help him beat the course par by three strokes.

The Vernon players were: Walter Lefroy, Dr. S. Hannah, W. D. McTaggart, Hazel Noh, D. J. Rance, J. Sunderland, F. A. Lewis, H. G. Greenwood, Homer Cochrane, Jimmie Cochran, A. D. Carr-Hilton, H. R. Cummer, J. M. Edgar, E. G. Sherwood, R. F. Raikes, K. W. Kinnard, J. E. Montague, and W. Hayward.

ASSOCIATION OF VALLEY HORSEMEN IS FORMED HERE

Formation of an Interior Thoroughbred Racing Association was practically completed at a meeting here this week of city, district, and Kamloops horsemen.

Objects of the Association are to have uniform regulations drawn up to govern all Okanagan race meets and to arrange a circuit of race events so that horses can be kept in condition throughout the season instead of, as at present, being trained for only one meet. If a circuit of race meets could be worked out, expenses would be cut considerably for the owners.

Col. E. Poole, of Armstrong, has been named President; H. E. Talbot, of Westwood, Vice-President; and Fred B. Galbraith, of Vernon, secretary and treasurer. The local stewards are F. H. Wilford, Laurie Carswell, and Bert Ellison.

Three stewards are to be named from each city and it is expected that Kamloops, Kelowna, and Penticton will join soon. Smaller places such as Grindrod and Lumby are also showing interest in the Association.

Cecil Clark Is Winner of Canada Wide Competition

To win the first prize for all of Canada in a ten-months contest conducted among salesmen of Firestone tires, is the remarkable accomplishment of Cecil Clark, of this city.

Mr. Clark, who placed second in a similar contest in 1932, has this year proven the outstanding sales representative of the Dominion and has directed favorable attention to the territory in which he works.

He is the district sales representative for Mackenzie, White & Dunsmuir, Ltd., and his territory is the Okanagan and Main Line sections.

The contest extended over the ten-month period up to August 15 last, and was based on volume of sales figured out in relation to car population in the various sales districts. The average increase over past years' business was also a factor considered in awarding the first prize.

A very successful dealers' contest was also held in conjunction with the salesmen's contest.

Seventeen Or More Cars Moved Or Ready To Move To Saskatchewan

From the main line right down through the Okanagan to the international boundary, a movement is now under way to secure fruits and vegetables to be shipped to drought-stricken areas of Saskatchewan, and already very substantial progress is evident.

By this evening, Thursday, or at the latest Friday morning, 17 cars or more will have rolled or will be ready for shipment, but the drive will be made until as much as possible is made available. About five or six cars are the immediate objective as Vernon's contribution.

Kelowna is reported to have had five cars already assembled. Summerland and Nelson have secured three each, and from Salmon Arm right through the valley other centres are doing their bit.

The objective of the Kelowna committee, according to Gordon Herbert, the secretary of the committee, is 10 tons of loose apples and three tons of vegetables, per car.

A "going up" ceremony from Cubs to Scouts was observed, and the following boys were promoted to the Scouts: Robert Clayton, Peter Seaton, Robert Megaw, Robert Nell, and Duff Macdonnell. Two patrols gave a short skit exemplifying points of the Scout law.

Former Queen Victoria Eugenie of Spain has arrived in New York to visit her son, the Count of Covadonga, who is seriously ill. The count gave up his royal rights to marry Edelmira Sampedro de Bourbon of Cuba, and now is having difficulties over alimony payments following their estrangement. Friends of the count say that his mother came to New York in order to take her son back with her to avoid his present legal difficulties. ## KELOWNA HOLD-UP IS FRUSTRATED

George Brown Puts Up Plucky Fight When Accosted In Back Yard

KELOWNA, B.C., Sept. 28.—An attempted hold-up was frustrated late Saturday evening by the pluckiness of the intended victim, George Brown, of the Sanitary Dairy. Two men accosted Mr. Brown, but he fought them off, and they fled. No arrests have been made, although a number of suspects were brought into Police Station for investigation.

At 11:45 o'clock Saturday evening Mr. Brown was driving his car into his back yard when he was accosted by two men. They evidently intended to rob him, and they used threatening language.

One man pretended he was carrying a revolver, but it is believed that such was not the case, and that the two men were unarmed. At least, no shot was fired, and there was never any attempt made by the two assailants to use firearms, if such they possessed.

One man grappled with Mr. Brown, who fought back. The other man joined in the fray, and Mr. Brown was on the receiving end of a number of strong blows to the face. He fought back, however, and had the satisfaction of seeing them give up the combat and flee down the alley.

Only a vague description of the men could be given by the victim of the assault. The men were wearing cloths or handkerchiefs over their faces. The Provincial Police detachment in Kelowna, assisted by the visiting highway patrol officers, scoured the district after hearing of the attempted hold-up, and brought in a number of suspects.

Mr. Brown could not give a description of sufficient clarity to bring a charge against any of those in for investigation.

COUNCIL REFUSES APPLICATION OF CHINESE GARDENER

No Special Favors Can Be Granted, Jin Kin Is Informed

A lengthy letter from Jin Kin, local Chinese truck gardener, read at the City Council meeting on Monday evening by Clerk J. W. Wright, caused smiles on the faces of the members present.

In a rather florid style, the letter asked for special consideration for water for sprinkling purposes on his plot in Chinatown.

Jin Kin complained that he has not been able to meet all his accounts this year as his garden, used to grow vegetables, had proved a failure, owing to "hampering regulations with regard to water."

The letter further explained that produce such as he grew could not be sprinkled in the ordinary manner but should be irrigated with ditches, and this civic regulations did not permit him to do.

His concrete proposal was that if the city would allow him to irrigate with a garden hose at any time he chose, he would be willing to pay to a month for the privilege.

Beyond an occasional smile, no member saw the need to comment and Alderman A. C. Wilde, chairman of the civic water committee, moved that Jin Kin be notified that no special privileges will be granted and the water regulations will be strictly adhered to.

The water question occupied the Council for some time when Alderman Wilde stated that he was engaged in securing quotations for a 100-horsepower pump for the B.X. station. The cost of a new one would be about $1,000, he said, and the two companies he had received letters from would not take the old motor as part payment. He was now engaged in negotiating for another motor which could be obtained, he thought, at considerably less than $1,000.

The civic water is a little off color these days, Alderman Townrow stated, and though the taste is peculiar, the water is wholesome. The trouble is caused by a weed in the B.X. system and nothing can be done about it.

Alderman Wilde explained that the system is cleaned out twice a year, but the weed still persists. He warned that the city is sooner or later going to be faced with an expenditure to install charcoal beds in the B.X. or else will have to depend entirely on Kalamalka Lake.

CONTROL APPLE SALES WITHIN B.C.

First Regulations Issued By B.C. Tree Fruit Board—Sub-Agents Appointed

KELOWNA, B.C., Sept. 28.—Regulations for the control of apple sales in the province of B.C. under the amended Provincial Marketing Act have gone forward from the B.C. Tree Fruit Board.

The B.C. Tree Fruit Ltd. has company, which is handling Cartel arrangements for shipments outside the province, has been named as the Tree Fruit Board's agents through which the B.C. sales will be controlled.

There will be no attempt to control over the whole province, but only in the area known as the Coast markets west of the 121st meridian.

Any shipper who wishes to sell tree fruits in that Coast market area must apply to the B.C. Tree Fruit Ltd. for appointment as a sub-agent.

The B.C. Tree Fruit Ltd. has authority to set prices, appoint and cancel licenses of sub-agents, and inspect trucks for proper licenses.

At the present time no separate prices have been named, and the shippers are controlled by the "current prices" for shipment to the prairie domestic market. Unless otherwise ordered, the Vancouver values will be the same as these, current prices.

Brokerage will be set at $20 per car, it is expected.

GOOD RECEPTION FOR MCINTOSH ON PRAIRIE MARKETS

CALGARY, Alta., Sept. 22.—The apple movement is reported fair with early McIntosh from Kamloops district showing best color to date. The opening prices quoted by shippers are considered reasonable and in line with low prices of other fruits. Imported peaches and prunes are cleaning up slowly. Re-conditioning is necessary with some lots of peaches. Prices have remained fairly steady. Late shipments of tomatoes from the Kamloops district have arrived very green and show generally poor quality. Jobbers have advanced the price to $1.00 per crate. Car arrivals, September 12 to 18 inclusive: Ontario, 1 fruit; Alberta, 1 potatoes; B.C., 4 fruit; 28 fruit and vegetables, 1 prunes, 3 apples, 1 apples and onions, 2 onions; Imported, 2 prunes, 1 pears, 1 bananas, 1 citrus.

REGINA, Sask., Sept. 22.—The weather has turned warmer following a few days low temperatures when the reading went below freezing. The first receipts of McIntosh apples from Kamloops arrived on the 14th, showing good size and color. These were followed by mixed cars containing Macs from other B.C. sources towards the end of the week which were also of good size and color. Stocks of Wealthies are not heavy and no serious overlapping of these varieties will occur. Stocks of imported peaches and Italian prunes are comparatively light and no difficulty is anticipated in marketing similar products from B.C. and Ontario. Car arrivals for week ending 19th: B.C., 2 apples, 11 mixed fruit, 5 mixed fruit and vegetables; Imported, 2 grapes, 1 mixed fruit, 2 bananas.

SASKATOON, Sask., Sept. 21.—McIntosh apples were of prime importance during the week. Beginning on Monday arrivals were liberal all week and fairly large stocks have accumulated on jobbers' floors despite the free movement. The quality of these proved very satisfactory, but the various color standards, for the unwrapped pack, must prove somewhat confusing to the consumer reading the retail ads. The retail prices for the unwrapped range from $1.59 to $1.95 per box. Wealthy stocks are light and arrivals limited with the retail price down as low as $1.35 per box. Peach and prune arrivals are rapidly falling off and jobbers are cleaning up their stocks at practically unchanged prices—efforts to raise prices being largely futile. Bartlett pears are rather scarce and prices firm, while the heavy supplies of Flemish Beauty are selling in only fair volume in spite of the low price. The market is well stocked with Ontario grapes, the retail price of which has dropped to 45c per 6-quart basket. B.C. onion arrivals were heavier and mostly showing very good quality with prices appearing to be on the up trend. Liberal quantities of potatoes are being brought in by truck and prices are unsettled. Car arrivals were: B.O., 7 apples, 1 onions, 2 mixed; Ontario, 3 grapes, 2 mixed; Imported, 1 grapes, 2 bananas.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 21.—Business was quiet last week on account of Jewish holiday. The first McIntosh apples in are of better color than usual. Satisfactory comments are being made upon them. The movement as yet has been slow. McIntosh, fancy, $1.00 per box. Wealthies are still selling fairly well, No. 3, at $1.40 to $1.00 per box. Gravensteins, O grade, $2.00 per box. Hyslop crabapples, fancy, $1.05 per box. A few B.C. tomatoes, peaches and prunes are on the market and selling slowly. B.C. Bartlett pears, fancy, $1.00 to $1.25 per box; Flemish and Bosworth, fancy, $2.35 to $2.50 per box. Ontario Bartlett, 11s, 00c. Ontario Green Gage and Damson plums, 6s, No. 1, 60c to 65c. B.C. Italian prunes, No. 1, $1.00 per box. The melon dept. is practically empty. The first car of Ontario onions in today. These are of good quality. Local potato offerings are still plentiful. Ontario grapes are coming in volume with a few cars of peaches and plums. Washington prunes, in half bushels, are on wholesale floors but no are on the market due to seasonal changes. The market due to seasonal changes. Peaches from the Okanagan are off the market. Hale peaches from Wash-

Mayor David Leeming

My Boyhood Ambition

DRUGGIST OR ARCHITECT

Mayor David Leeming, of Victoria, last year's president of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, which held its annual convention here last week, has established a record for continuous service for a mayor in Victoria.

"But had it not been for $100 article fees, I might have been a druggist or an architect in England today," he explains.

Those two callings had the greatest appeal for Mayor Leeming when he was a boy, but a desire to make his own way at an early age led him into other fields.

The hardest part of his work as mayor revolves around matters of civic finance and the first half of the year provides the majority of his civic worries as he and the council draw up the budget.

While his early ambitions failed of achievement, as far as a vocation is concerned, he is well pleased with the turn of events which led him to become the chief magistrate of Victoria.

Had he his life to live over again he doubts if anything would suit him better than to occupy his present post. He likes to meet the distinguished visitors with whom he comes in contact as mayor and he enjoys studying humanity from the broad cross section exposed to him in his present work. "Don't speculate," is his advice to the public.

BORON INJECTION METHOD LEADS TO TRUNK INJURIES

The following recommendations are issued by the Okanagan Advisory Committee on Physiological Disorder Investigations.

1. Do not use the injection method which was recommended last year. The injury it causes to the trunks of the trees makes it undesirable.

2. Broadcast boric acid crystals on the soil around the trees to be treated. This amount should first be carefully weighed out and its volume then measured in a small container. A tomato soup tin with its top cut off is quite suitable for this purpose. The marked container may then be used in measuring out the amount to be applied to each tree. The boric acid can be broadcast by hand in the same way that clover seed is broadcast. It is not necessary to use any filler.

3. Around each tree the boric acid should be distributed as evenly as possible over the area of a circle at least twenty feet in diameter. On large trees this should correspond to the area of limb-spread; around small trees the area should not be less than twenty feet in diameter.

4. The applications are to be made at any time after the first of October and before the snow comes.

5. Boric acid when applied at the rate of eight ounces per tree has not caused injury to trees or cover crop. It is recommended, therefore, that growers apply it generally to all trees in an orchard or part of an orchard where drought spot or corky core has previously occurred, even though on only a few trees.

6. Trees treated last year, by the injection method, should each receive another application of eight ounces per tree by the new method.

7. In a young orchard with fillers, where there is a large number of trees per acre, it is recommended that the maximum amount of boric acid applied shall not exceed thirty pounds per acre. Thirty pounds divided by the number of trees per acre will give the dose to be applied per tree.

Treatments with boric acid are also recommended for the following diseases: drought spot of pear, apricot and cherry, and gum spot of plum and prune. The recommendations covering the treatment of such trees are identical with those for apple, that is, eight ounces of boric acid per tree to be broadcast in the soil over an area of not less than twenty feet in diameter.

The recommendations should be closely followed if good results are to be obtained. It should be especially remembered that the boric acid must be scattered evenly over the areas specified, as an uneven distribution might cause injury. Growers are advised to inform their local supply house immediately of their requirements.

JAILED FOR STEALING RING
KELOWNA, B.C., Sept. 28.—Albert Blum, is spending fifteen days in jail on a charge of stealing a ring, the property of G. Ovie, of Westbank. Mr. Ovie appeared at the Police Station on Saturday and stated that the ring, which had been left on a table, had disappeared. He had seen two of his former employees in Kelowna, and one of them was wearing this ring.

Consequently, Provincial Constable Second arrested Blum and his companion Clarence Proctor. The latter was exonerated of all blame by Blum who pleaded guilty before Magistrate J. P. Burne on Monday morning.

Nature has arranged things so that a poor man is able to display as many virtues as a millionaire.

HOW can the new cars give you up to 88 per cent more horsepower with the same size engines? The big reason is — higher engine speeds!

Nine hundred Revolutions per Minute more than in the 1930 cars is today's pace, with compressions, temperatures, piston speeds and bearing pressures all higher, higher, higher!

That's what has changed the motor oil picture. Great heats, great pressures and great speeds burn up oils—tear them to pieces.

TO CURB DRINKING NEAR DANCE HALLS

PENTICTON, B.C., Sept. 28.—"I shall most likely be criticized," said Magistrate McLellan to two accused young men recently, "but under the circumstances I will give you suspended sentence for six months."

The two men, Clifford Sharpe, aged 17, and Sydney Wade, were charged with drinking in a public place. The minimum fine for this offence is $50 and costs, the magistrate informed the men, indicating that in future this fine would be imposed.

In connection with the charge, Corporal R. Meadows saw that many complaints had been received regarding the drinking that was going on in streets and lanes in the vicinity of dance halls. This is contrary to law, and would be ruthlessly stamped out, especially in view of the fact that some girls and boys under age were implicated. The magistrate agreed with the police officer, stating to the two accused that, in the case of Wade, there was an absolutely clear record, and no doubt he was not the worst of the offenders. Also, he would hesitate to impose so heavy a fine on a young boy, which might give him a serious set-back. Thus the two men were each assessed the costs of the court and released on suspended sentence.

The third man to get suspended sentence, after paying costs of the court, gave his name as Stanley Wright. He appeared at the Monday morning session of the court, and was arrested on Saturday night, being charged by Corporal Meadows.

The magistrate has indicated that there will be no further leniency in these cases.

FAIRVIEW MILL SHIPPING

100 TONS GOLD ORE DAILY

OLIVER, B.C., Sept. 26.—One hundred tons of gold ore daily is to be handled at the Fairview Amalgamated mill as soon as additional equipment is installed, according to C. Bruce, vice president of the company. The company has decided to go ahead with plans to step up the capacity of the mill which is now handling about 60 tons daily. Mining operations have greatly exceeded the capacity of the mill during the last few months, and a large quantity of ore is now in storage in old tunnels. Another carload of concentrates was shipped this week.

The King Chooses a New Tartan

As the King plans to spend three weeks at Balmoral Castle, Scotland, it is announced he has ordered that tartans worn by the royal servants be changed from the traditional plaids of the Stuarts to that of Balmoral. Shown here is the Balmoral tartan, of which the general effect is gray. The narrow double stripes near the right and left edges of the tartan are running through the centre, are red, and where they cross there are little squares of bright red. The background is gray and the other stripes are a darker gray and black.

School Board Members Resign Following Failure of By-laws

Dr. Brown declared that he would not continue till the end of the year, though he was willing to act in any way he could during the interval before the election of new trustees, so as to avoid any disorganization in school administration.

"We must resign now to make our resignation effective," was Trustee Harwood's remark. "There are a number of other big issues coming up soon, and we should not handle them. Apparently we have not the confidence of the public."

"I shall carry on only so far as is necessary to make the legal changes," said Chairman Lang.

"From the wording of all our resignations as submitted we show that we regard this by-law defeat as a want-of-confidence vote, and there's nothing for us to do but resign," added Dr. Brown.

There is one thing I feel most strongly about," declared Trustee Kinnard, "and that is the lack of interest and lack of support offered by the City Council. I'm willing to admit it wasn't necessary for the Council to come in behind us, but its absence and lack of interest was quite a considerable factor in contributing to the defeat of the by-law. Had the Council given its support, there would have been sufficient additional support to put the by-laws over. I feel that the City Council, in whose hands the guidance of this city is placed should have taken more interest. And I'm very disappointed that the Council displayed such an attitude on a major issue."

"You could make it stronger than that," declared Dr. Brown.

"Any statements that did come from the Council suggested actual opposition."

"I regret that the Council saw fit to adopt that attitude," continued Trustee Kinnard. "And because of that fact I do not regard the vote last Thursday as altogether indicating a lack of confidence in the Board. I should also regret it to be thought that we, as Trustees, are merely throwing up our hands and quitting now because we are peevish or something."

"The position is really that it is now impossible for us to go on," said Dr. Brown. "Those are my views," said Dr. Brown. "It's an impossible situation."

"Whether the trustees like it or not, provision simply has to be made for the school children," Trustee Kinnard emphasized. "We cannot be expected to go on doing the unreasonable thing."

"We could continue on a makeshift basis, but it would be merely throwing money away. And I for one do not mean to be a party to such action. It will be up to some other body of trustees."

"The requirements of the new curriculum and Vernon not in a position to keep up with other centres. If any new money is to be spent, it should be done in such a way as to keep up the standard adopted everywhere else. Any other course would be just throwing good money after bad."

"Mr. Kinnard has summed up my views exactly," was Trustee Harwood's terse comment.

Earlier in the meeting Trustee Lang as chairman, had pointed out that City Solicitor Morrow had advised that the Board could take steps alternative to resigning.

Mr. Morrow had suggested that an amendment to the act might be sought, empowering the Board to go ahead providing a straight majority over 60 per cent were obtained, rather than the three-fifths majority. This would be dependent upon the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Alternatively, the Board might seek the passing of a private act to continue the school building by-law in view of the straight majority that was obtained, though it was less than the requisite three-fifths.

"There is a cogent precedent for this," Mr. Lang stated, "and we have been referred to the water rates at Shillasho as an instance."

Such applications to the authorities would necessarily be with the Council's permission, Mr. Lang further stated, and they could apply only to the building by-law, the site question having been definitely turned down.

"We've had these suggestions before," stated Trustee Kinnard, "in the discussion that ensued, and we have not considered them advisable."

Other Trustees seemed of the opinion that it was not desirable

MUNICIPALITIES' FINANCIAL STATUS DISCUSSED HERE

Alderman G. C. Miller, of Vancouver, Gives Interesting Address Before Rotary Club

Faced with huge increases in social service costs, greatly diminished government grants, and limitation in taxation to practically land taxes, cities and municipalities in this province are in a serious situation, Alderman G. C. Miller, of Vancouver, told members of the Rotary Club at a recent luncheon meeting.

Illustrating the manner in which municipalities and cities have had their government grants cut, Alderman Miller gave sets of figures showing the decline as it affected Vancouver.

In 1931 that city obtained $723,000 for school purposes, in 1934, $390,000; liquor grants 1931, $371,000, in 1934, nothing. In 1931 Vancouver received sums amounting to $1,412,000, and only three years later $642,000, a decrease of some $770,000.

While he gave figures as they affected Vancouver, and the totals were, he admitted, large, the speaker stated that the percentages when worked out are almost identical in any other municipality in British Columbia. All these cuts did not include any money spent for relief purposes in the city, amounting last year to about $1,000,000.

From 86 to 88 per cent of a municipality's revenue is derived from taxes on land, Alderman Miller said. In some respects British Columbia municipalities are in a poorer position than others in the east where, in several instances, income and business taxes are levied. On the whole, however, governments across Canada have handled municipalities in much the same fashion as in this province.

"Our government has usurped and consumed these extra possibilities for revenue that might have gone to the municipalities, so that now they are forced to depend almost entirely on land taxes," he stated.

In the early days of this country when duties of the separate branches of government were being divided, it was not intended that municipalities, dependent on land taxes, should provide the multiplicity of services that a modern city is called upon to bear.

"Today taxpayers are demanding 20th century services on a 19th century system of taxation," he declared.

There must be some dividing line between services local and reasonably be called on to pay for, such as roads, sewers, police, and other costs that bear entirely no relation to land such as hospitals, social services, and education, Alderman Miller said.

Today land is not an index of a municipality's ability to pay. As an example of this the speaker said that if a man builds a $4,000 home he immediately sets up a liability to the municipality of from $100 to $150 a year; while if the money is invested the city receives absolutely no benefit and yet services are demanded just the same.

Alderman Miller's contention was that there should be a new system of taxation whereby burdens would be distributed equally, or else the government should assume the cost of social services, "the bug-bear of all Councils."

CAUSED DISTURBANCE
KELOWNA, B.C., Sept. 28.—For causing a disturbance, J. Hawley paid a fine of $5 and costs when he appeared before E. M. Carruthers, J.P., on September 26. On a similar charge George Weir paid a fine of $10, before Magistrate J. P. Burne on Monday, September 28.

to "force the issue" against the taxpayers in such a way.

The meeting concluded with the transaction of routine business. Trustee Harwood left before the termination of the business. He was apparently considerably affected by the action being taken, and remarked simply upon the end of 30 years of this sort of work.

A motion was adopted that the options taken on Seventh Street property be relinquished. It was also ordered that the school books be audited up to the end of this month.

The question of blanket insurance and accident indemnity which has been engaging the study of the trustees for a lengthy period was "laid over to the attention of our successors."

Registration—Jack Lyness
In Charge

KELOWNA, B.C., Sept. 28.—That the Department of Education definitely intends to establish a Physical Education Centre in Kelowna was the information elicited by Max Oakes, Chairman of the Sports Committee of the Junior Board of Trade at an executive session of that body last Friday night. Details as to the possible location of the Centre have not been worked out yet, but it will probably be either at the Junior High gymnasium or the Armory.

Jack Lyness Appointed
It was stated at this session that Jack Lyness, former Kelowna resident, will be back to the Orchard City to instruct the men's classes. The lady instructor has not been appointed as yet, but it is understood that the choice for Kelowna lies between two of the highest ranking teachers in the Province.

Jack Lyness placed second in the classes of instruction at the Centre, and on the strength of his standing was given a position as instructor at the Vancouver Playgrounds by the Vancouver Parks Board this summer.

The Junior Board of Trade is sponsoring this move, in Kelowna, by the Provincial Department of Physical and Recreational Education. Registration and activities will commence about October 15.

This plan is an outcome of the Health Plan of Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education. Ian Eisenhardt, who visited Kelowna last June and explained the plan, is Provincial Director. Everyone is eligible to take part, but the classes are primarily for young men and women over school age. The age limit will be governed by the size of enrolment and the hours available, it is said.

Develop Efficient Health

To develop a body beautiful to the eye and efficient for a civil life, is one of the aims of this department. To make a naturally efficient youth more efficient and at least passable, under the care of an efficient instructor, is another aim. Last but not least, to make the young man and woman understand that good health is a duty to the nation to which they belong, is a big aim.

The girls' activities will include fundamental gymnastics, special activities in apparatus, and tumbling, and folk and tap dancing. The men's activities will include fundamental gymnastics, tumbling, and any other special line of endeavor that may be desired.

Special leadership classes will be held once a week. The Department wishes to co-operate with all organizations it is understood, as well as schools, so that recreational and physical activities may be centralized for the whole city and district. Max Oakes has information on this Centre and enquiries should be addressed to him.

OKANAGAN APPLES BEING SELECTED FOR FRUIT SHOW

Some 204 Boxes From Valley

The Okanagan will be well represented in the Canadian championship section of the Imperial Fruit Show, to be held this year in Liverpool, England, from October 30 to November 7.

Entries will be chosen from shippers' ordinary packs and no one will know in advance what boxes are to be picked. Exhibits are being chosen by representatives of the Fruit Branch and by officials of the department of agriculture.

Of the 204 boxes chosen, the following shippers contributed: Associated Growers, 104; Occidental, 24; B.C. ## SUIT AGAINST MINING SYNDICATE DISMISSED

A suit against the Silver Mountain Mining Syndicate, for recovery of a balance of wages allegedly owing two employees, was dismissed by Judge J. D. Swanson in County Court without costs last week.

The two plaintiffs, R. McNeil and Jack Brebber, sued for $91.20 each, which they alleged was the amount due them over what had been paid. They claimed they should have been paid at the rate of $4.50 a day each for construction work, while the Syndicate paid $3.25.

When McNeil and Brebber were engaged no definite salary was stipulated, only the minimum wage for construction work, which amounts to $3.20 per day, the Court found, in dismissing the action.

CONVICTED OF DRIVING TO COMMON DANGER

William Dul, convicted of driving to the common danger, was fined $10 and $17.50 costs before Magistrate William Morley in city police court on Monday morning. Evidence showed that Dul, with another young man, was in a companion, had driven in a reckless manner down Barnard Avenue on Saturday.

"SAN FRANCISCO" ROUSES VERY WIDE ACCLAIM

Jeanette MacDonald Is Cast As A Music-Hall Favorite
In This Film

Clark Gable's newest picture role is in a romantic musical drama of early San Francisco in which he is co-starred with Jeanette MacDonald and Spencer Tracy.

Gable's vigorous roles in "China Seas" and "Mutiny on the Bounty," and Miss MacDonald's outstanding success in "Naughty Marietta" and "Rose Marie" served as the inspiration to bring the two notable stars together for the first time.

In the new picture, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "San Francisco," playing on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 30, and Oct. 1, 2, 3, to the Empire Theatre, Gable portrays a big-time gambler of the Golden Gate city at the height of its most glamorous period, in the beginning of the twentieth century.

Miss MacDonald is a small-town minister's daughter who seeks adventure in San Francisco, rises to fame in the music halls and, later, in the legitimate theatre.

An absorbing love story for Gable and Miss MacDonald is woven through the plot, with Miss MacDonald singing favorite songs of the past and others written for her. These range from melodies familiar to every household to the most famous operatic arias.

STOLE PAY CHEQUE FROM C.N.R. WORKER

Granted Suspended Sentence On Condition of Making
Restitution

Pleading guilty to theft of a Canadian National Railway pay cheque amounting to $19.93, Carl Wilson, a member of a railway extra gang employed on track work near O'Keefe's Siding, was given six months suspended sentence before Magistrate William Morley in district police court on Friday morning last.

The cheque was the property of a fellow worker, A. Reasi, and the sentence is conditional on restitution being made. Wilson's fellow workers had agreed to make good the loss and they also paid the court costs.

Evidence showed that Wilson had stolen the cheque, cashed it at Armstrong, and had spent the proceeds at the Interior Provincial Exhibition.

A strong plea on the accused's behalf was made by Albert Watts, the gang foreman, who said that Wilson had been a good worker and was popular with the men. "He made a mistake while under a sudden temptation," was Mr. Watts' comment. Another railway hand, Jack Curley, also spoke.

Wilson told the court that he was born in Ottawa and prior to securing employment on the railway had spent two years in a relief camp at Annis.

Old-Time Records Fall Before Prowess of Modern Firemen

Vernon and Enderby Brigades Both Crack Former Marks In Competitions

A 20-year record was broken by both the Vernon and Enderby Fire Departments hose reel teams in competitions at Enderby on Sunday last.

Competing against their northern rivals, the local firemen, captained by Mark Wakefield, dragged the hose reel 100 yards in 13 1/5 seconds, one-fifth of a second slower than Enderby's time, however. The last record for this feat, established at Kamloops in 1915, was 13 4/5 seconds, it has been discovered.

With the advent of modern fire fighting equipment, competition between departments has taken other forms than reel contests, but the revival on Sunday of this sport shows that the firemen of today are more fleet-footed than those of 20 years ago.

The Vernon men won out in the second half of the test, pulling the reel 50 yards, connecting three lengths of hose to a hydrant, and showing water, in 33 seconds flat. Enderby's mark was 34 and 4/5 seconds, giving Vernon the aggregate by 1 and 3/5 seconds.

This evening, Thursday, the Enderby team will compete with the Vernon men in a return match in front of the Fire Hall at 7 o'clock.

It is further reported that poles and materials are now on the way.

The line is to be built for supplying power to the gold mine, but it is expected that residents and packing houses of the border village will also be supplied with electricity.

MASSED BANDS PRESENT GREATLY ENJOYED PROGRAM

A program ranging from Victor Herbert's "Favorites," and other light selections to the sacred quality of "Deep Harmony," by Broadman, presented by the Vernon and Revelstoke Bands in the Empress Theatre on Sunday afternoon, was extremely well received by an appreciative audience. Forty instruments were included.

The Vernon Band was under the baton of J. Werner and the Revelstoke Band was under David Orr. Alderman David Howie gave a short introductory address and both bandmasters spoke briefly.

The program opened with Holman's "Blaze Away," and other marches given during the afternoon were Telke's "Alten Kamaraden" and Sousa's "Stars and Stripes."

Light selections included the jazz "Tiger Rag"; a group of three familiar airs, "Girl I Left Behind Me," "Home Sweet Home," "Auld Lang Syne"; and King's "Golden Dream."

Other pieces were two overtures, Russell's "New Dawn," and Suppe's "Poet and Peasant"; and Waldteufel's waltz, "Toujour Ou Jamais."

The program as presented by the massed bands was the same as was given by the Revelstoke Band on Sunday, September 20, in honor of members of the production unit of "The Great Barrier," which was filmed this summer at Revelstoke.

The Minister of Agriculture, through the Fruit Commissioner, has instructed inspectors to issue certificates immediately for shipment of C grade apples destined to United Kingdom markets via Panama.

For routing via Atlantic ports to United Kingdom markets, certificates will not be issued for C grade apples to leave British Columbia prior to October 12, 1936.

Minimum size C grade permitted to be shipped is 270's for Jonathan, Winesap, Stayman, and Yellow Newtown, 216's for Delicious, with Fancy color requirements.

The export of C grade apples all other varieties, excepting Wealthy and Cox Orange, is prohibited.

R. W. Tate, formerly of Vernon, has been appointed inspector at the ports of Vancouver and New Westminster, commencing October 1, to watch over and report on the unloading and loading of apples for export.

It has been suggested that ships' agents co-operate with the inspector in a manner that will enable him to inspect the handling in the hold, as well as the handling from dock to ship.

Not a person has been killed or injured in the transportation of billions of pounds of dynamite or black powder by the railroads of the United States and Canada since 1927. They handled 370,000,000 pounds of dynamite and black powder in 1935 alone.

Vernon Drag Hounds and Officials

Vernon and District Drag Hounds Are Attracting Attention to This City

Organization Is Unique In Western Canada—Has Strong Support Here

With the season's opening hunt recently of the Vernon and District Drag Hounds, this organization, which is undoubtedly unique in Western Canada, has entered upon its third year of continuous activity.

Actual foundations for the present highly successful hunt were laid in the late autumn of 1932, when the Vernon Riding Club was formed as the outcome of an informal meeting called by enthusiasts in this district.

Now, on any Sunday until the snow comes, it will be possible to see a field of from 25 to nearly double that number of riders following the hounds among the hills and valleys adjacent to Vernon.

Chief credit for the popularity and success of the hunt must go to the officers in charge. Sufficient interest has been aroused to attract a wide outside membership, including one from Vancouver who joins the hunt on frequent visits to this city.

Besides the regular Sunday hunts, activities have widened out considerably and a yearly feature which attracts much notice is the annual gymkhana, held recently on the race track grounds with about 25 riders competing. Through the stimulus offered by the Drag Hounds, large numbers of riders also compete at fairs and race meets held at different points throughout the valley.

October, 1934, marked the actual beginning of the present Drag Hounds when three couples of fox hounds were obtained from New York state, with the co-operation of a number of Vernon merchants and others. Commencing that fall meets were held every Sunday during the spring and autumn. The hounds are generally taken out on Thursdays for exercise or for a coyote hunt.

Unfortunately, several hounds have been lost, but including pups which will be ready to hunt next spring, there is now a pack of six couples.

Membership has been as high as 75, and on one hunt last spring there were 45 riders in the field, including a number of officers from the training camp, which was here during May.

Several prominent members have left the district, but a few new members have been gained, with several in Kelowna and Armstrong.

The President is Major P. J. Locke and other officers are W. F. Cameron, Secretary, O. H. Smith, Vice-President, and an executive committee. The Master of the Hounds is F. H. "Tommy" Wilmot, while the first and second whips are Bert Ellison and Capt. J. Stamer, respectively.

The nucleus of the present Drag Hounds was formed in 1932 when W. T. Cameron, Leslie Macdonell, Capt. E. M. Wilmot, and F. H. Wilmot banded together with the object of forming a riding club.

A meeting was held on November 4 of that year and the Vernon Riding Club came into being with Capt. Wilmot acting as the first secretary.

With Miss Violet Osborn and Mr. Cameron as harrier, a very successful paper chase was held and about 30 members were signed up in the Riding Club soon after the organization meeting. The first committee consisted of Capt. and "Tommy" Wilmot, Mr. Macdonell, Mr. Cameron, Major C. W. Husband, Mrs. P. J. Locke, and Miss Violet Osborn.

Before the end of 1933 about 70 members and associate members were included and activities consisted of paper chase, rides, and gymkhana, while some representatives of the club competed in events at the Interior Provincial Exhibition at Armstrong.

In the summer of 1934, F. H. Wilmot suggested introducing fox hounds and running a drag hunt. Hounds were procured and at the hunt annual meeting in the spring of 1935 the Riding Club was changed to the Vernon and District Drag Hounds.

Since then the popularity and prominence of the hunt have increased greatly, and drawn favorable attention to this city.

Following is the complete list of members of the Vernon and District Drag Hounds:

Honorary President, F. B. Cossitt; Honorary Vice-Presidents: Hon. K. O. Macdonell, Mayor E. W. Prowse, P. E. R. Wollaston, George Heggie, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hodgson, Mrs. P. J. FALKLAND, B.C., Sept. 29.—The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held in the United Church on Thursday afternoon with the majority of the members present and several visitors. Mrs. U. St. Laurent acted as president.

Mrs. J. N. Thompson, of Kelowna, addressed the meeting and chose for her subject "Phases of Native Life in Africa." For her listeners Mrs. Thompson painted in words a very realistic picture of that vast continent and its natives, and told in a most interesting manner of the tremendous amount of missionary work that has been accomplished since the time of Livingstone; and the huge responsibility which still rests with the church to educate these African peoples. At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served at the home of Mrs. W. J. McClelline.

A dance, sponsored by the members of the Anglican Ladies' Auxiliary, was held in the Community Hall on Friday evening, with "Doc" Ferguson's Orchestra, of Vernon, supplying the music. The evening proved very successful both socially and financially.

CORRESPONDENCE

Says Good-bye After 30 Years

It is the end of a perfect 30 years. I want to thank the public, the children, and the parents who have supported me over that long period—in my mistakes and errors. I want to thank them for the privilege of letting me represent them abroad and at home, and at many conventions. Without their co-operation and support I could not hold today so many mementos of my work as a school trustee, nor could I have attended such gatherings as the great convention of trustees at San Francisco where I represented British Columbia. I have appreciated the confidence shown me. I want to say to the teaching staff, and also to the staff of janitors, "Good-bye and thank you." I say that with all my heart. And I want the children to remember that I have had the privilege of watching them grow up in their classrooms, and I have seen many of them, in later years, become highly successful men and women. To the children also, I say "Good-bye and God bless you."

Yours most sincerely,
Joe Harwood.

The Library

Editor, The Vernon News, Sir:—

There is much ado in town about our Library, so much in fact that one wonders if we are not on the eve of a big disillusionment as to the advantages we expected to accrue from affiliation with the new district organization. There is a tinge of bitterness marking the feelings of many of our citizens in this matter. When we had our own library, while it was not all that we could have wished for, yet we did get new books and the stock on hand was generally speaking quite creditable. Today the situation is not so good, we do not seem to have as many books, very few that are new. While the selection is simply atrocious. One can go to the library with a hunger for a good book to read and leave unsatisfied.

If the new affiliation was costing us less there might be some excuse for the curtailed service, but the cost is not less, it is greater, while the total levy upon citizens must be vastly more than under the arrangements we had prior to this year. Can it be that the van, or motor delivery, is absorbing the people's money and that we have not enough with which to buy books? If this is the case I am prepared to suggest that the motor van be discontinued and the distribution of books contracted for with the Greyhound or other bus service. Whatever happens Mr. Editor, we demand a greatly improved library service for Vernon.

Thanking you for this space, I am
Yours truly,
G. P. Bagnall.

SHE DREADED GOING UPSTAIRS

Woman's Fear of Rheumatic Pains

One of the many troubles that afflict rheumatic sufferers is the difficulty of getting up and down stairs. Such was the case with this woman, before she started taking Kruschen, but now she finds it no trouble. Read what she says:—

"I have been taking Kruschen now for over 12 months, a half-teaspoonful in hot water first thing in the morning, and I feel a new woman. I had very painful rheumatism in my knees and back and also my head was getting very bad. I used to dread walking upstairs now. I am very thankful to say it is no trouble at all and I scarcely have any pains. I feel better in health than I have done for years."—(Mrs.) G.M.

Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are notable for their work in dissolving uric acid. Other ingredients of Kruschen assist Nature to expel the dissolved acid from the system.

SPLENDID CROP OF SPRING WHEAT ON THE L. & A. RANCH

Over 250 Tons Graded No. 1 Northern—To Plant Malt Barley Next Year

This season's entire crop of Marquis spring wheat on the L. & A. Ranch, amounting to over 250 tons, was graded No. 1 northern by the government inspection, states George Heggie, the manager.

The ranch's 170 tons of fall wheat also commanded a good grade, and the difference in price obtained between the spring and the fall crops amounted to but five cents a bushel, he says.

Last fall severe frosts cut seeding operations considerably with the result that a far heavier proportion of spring grain was planted and results have proved so satisfactory, Mr. Heggie says, that spring wheat will form the larger proportion of the 1937 crop.

Still another unusual feature of the L. & A. crop was that no government dockage was charged.

What might probably prove to be a profitable crop for many other Okanagan farmers will be tried out in earnest on the ranch next year, when a considerable acreage of malt barley will be planted. With the vastly increased demand for malt in the United States, a new market has sprung up rapidly and the demand at present is brisk.

One of the major problems confronting grain growers in the valley at present is the securing of fair grades for their fall wheat, which is far superior to the prairie product, and compares very favorably with the lower grades of northern. Only northern wheat is exported, however, and the other grades consequently take a much lower price.

HAWAIIAN MOTIF AT HOSPITAL BALL

A glimpse of Hawaii will be offered those who attend the Vernon Junior Hospital Auxiliary ball to be held in the National Ballroom on Wednesday evening of next week, October 7.

Members of the auxiliary are now putting the final touches to their plans, and though there is a modest silence about some of these preliminary arrangements, it can be safely predicted that a pleasant and unique surprise awaits the many dancers who are already fast filling up the reservations for this annual event in support of such a worthy cause.

Decorations and favors have been planned to convey a South Sea atmosphere. There will be entertainment features, and the Armstrong Serenaders will supply the music from 9:30 until 2.

The Junior Hospital Auxiliary's efforts are directed towards raising funds for the Jubilee Hospital, and support for the dance next Wednesday evening is being strongly urged.

ARMSTRONG COURT FINES LOCAL MAN

For failure to have a commercial truck driver's license, William Hall, of this city, was fined $17.50 in Armstrong court last week. In addition, Mr. Hall had to buy a commercial license and a chauffeur's license, costing another $13.

Mr. Hall stated he was asked by a government employee to use his truck to haul gravel for work on the Armstrong road. Then he was shortly afterwards taken into court, for not having the required license.

Now, not only is he out of the cost of the fine, but the licenses he secured are of no value to him, Mr. Hall protests, as he drives his own truck only for his own business, and not for hire.

VERNON TO VOTE ON SPORTS ARENA

sume charge of the arena project and have it owned and controlled by the city, and, when constructed, they appoint a management committee. A resolution agreeing to this appeal was passed unanimously.

A suggestion, which will in all probability be carried out, was made that the Mayor, the chairman of the finance committee, and the City Clerk be on such a management committee, and also that all money received in fees and rental of the arena be received at the City Hall and all accounts paid from there.

Should the plebiscite pass, tenders will be called from local builders, and a clause will be inserted in the contract specifying labor and lumber, so far as is possible. The management of the Vernon Box Factory has agreed to supply materials at cost in order to keep the factory's men employed longer this year.

The arena, according to the committee's plan, will be operated during the summer for box lacrosse and other indoor summer sports and during the winter for skating and hockey, and will be available to the general public every day in the week except Sunday when it will be closed. It will also be the scene for many other activities, it is expected.

Figures on probable revenue and estimated expenditure as shown to the Council were said by members to be conservative, especially money to be derived from box lacrosse, which has attracted over 1,000 people to games in Kamloops, Nelson, and other Kootenay and Interior cities. It was pointed out to the committee that Nelson, with a population only 50 per cent. larger than Vernon's, had expended well over $200,000, and had only had the taxpayers' aid, and had to put out any money, but the profit over all requirements for the first six months' operations had been nearly $7,000.

Vernon has a considerably larger outside district than has Nelson and the Council agreed with the committee that with an expenditure of only $30,000, and with revenue to be derived mainly from skating, hockey, and box lacrosse, it was probable that the arena would not only pay its way, but would return a profit to the city.

A 99-year lease on building lots next to the Inland Empire Cold Storage plant can be obtained. Frank Valair is also willing to sell two lots he owns at a reasonable figure, it is understood. Further details regarding estimated revenue and expenditure, the type of building and equipment planned, and other details of interest will be given in next week's issue of The Vernon News.

Discussion of the proposed civic sports arena for this city was in its "in camera" stage, so far as the Council meeting on Monday evening was concerned.

When members of the committee visiting this project met with the City Council for the first time, a motion to adjourn the open Council session and meet in committee was passed, and two representatives of the press were immediately excluded.

The motion was proposed by Alderman Townrow, who said that there were many detailed matters and he thought they should be considered in committee, and this motion was seconded by Alderman David Howrie. Alderman Townrow and Howrie are the Council members who have been meeting with the committee, to form plans for the arena.

TEXT OF TRUSTEES' RESIGNATIONS

Board of School Trustees. I have considered this question very carefully since the adverse vote on the by-laws last Thursday, and I have come to the conclusion that there is really no other alternative than for me to take this step.

Your Board, as you know, have for some time considered the school problem thoroughly, and it has been their opinion that the only reasonable and economic solution is to build a new school premises at this time. It is impossible for your Board to carry out the requirements of the school curriculum and the authorized work, and it is going to be increasingly impossible as time goes on. In order to operate at all, we have had to make heavy expenditures for temporary buildings and other makeshifts, which is actually throwing money away. I do not see that I can continue on the Board and operate in that way. Our ratepayers have signified that we shall not have adequate school buildings and, as I feel that something will have to be done of which I cannot approve, I, therefore, am forced to take this action.

I am sorry that it seems necessary for me to sever my connection with the Board in this way, after six years' service, but I believe it is the only course I can adopt.

Faithfully yours,
(Signed) K. W. Kinnard.

LOSES MEMORY AFTER ACCIDENT

KELOWNA, B.C., Sept. 28.—The mystery of who ran over or struck Peter Oherkashoff in Glenmore on Thursday, September 17, was revealed before Juvenile Court Judge J. P. Burne on Monday, September 28, when a juvenile was charged with operating a motor vehicle in an accident causing injury to the aforementioned party, and failing to make a written report.

This boy was fined $5 and his driver's license was cancelled. He had been operating under a minor's certificate. Oherkashoff appeared at the Provincial Police Station on Thursday evening, September 17, at 7:35 o'clock and reported that he thought he had been struck by a car. He had lost his memory temporarily, and on being examined by Dr. A. S. Underhill, it was found he was suffering from concussion. He recovered quickly, but still only had a vague idea of what had occurred.

Investigation by Provincial Constable George Wyman led to the apprehension of the young Kelowna boy who acted guiltily. He had picked Oherkashoff with his car, had picked him up and driven him to Kelowna. Believing that Oherkashoff was uninjured he let him off in the City and did not bother to report to the Police.

KELOWNA CITIZENS RALLY TO WORK ON EAST-SIDE ROAD

Board of Trade Party Wields Picks and Shovels—Five Men Form Association

KELOWNA, B.C., Sept. 28.—Thirty-three energetic Kelowna citizens hurriedly picked up shovels into the hillside and turned the first sods in what is hoped here will eventually be an east side road from Kelowna to Penticton. For years Kelowna has sought an east side road. Governments have been petitioned, letters by the dozens have been written, but no action has ever been forthcoming. A survey some years ago put a prohibitive figure on putting through the road.

In mid-summer five Kelowna men took matters into their own hands. They surveyed a possible route. They obtained and went over other trails, and came to the conclusion that they could push through a road of sorts which would link up the road to Paradise Ranch with the Okanagan Mission route.

A call to arms was sent out late last week. The Kelowna Board of Trade and the Junior Board of Trade, working unofficially, got out volunteers. Thirty-three men were on the job Sunday morning and the first link was connected up.

From Kelowna to Okanagan Mission and to Sept. Goldsmith's property and is already a good road in place, a distance of nine miles. But from Goldsmith's gateway there are a few minor difficulties.

The first of these obstacles was overcome last Sunday when the gang of workers put through a road from the hillside and linked the present road to the Old Penticton Trail, which has not been used to any extent for years.

Sam Miller, President of the Kelowna Board of Trade, had the honor of putting the first car over this freshly constructed grade and driving a distance of a mile down to the "corral." Twenty-two miles of roadway is already in place, leaving fourteen miles to complete. Another mile was opened up last Sunday, and next week-end will probably see a car travel to Deep Creek, if not beyond—Horse Creek.

Then there will be only ten miles of road to open up and a vehicle will be able to travel the entire distance.

Form Company For Work
The original five promoters of the scheme have banded themselves into the Okanagan Valley Highway Association. It is understood that this Association will be registered under the Societies Act to carry out the work.

Already contributions of labor, teams, and money have been promised so that the project may carry through. Tractors, plows, graders, and possibly a "bull dozer" may be obtained in the next two to three weeks.

It is hoped that the greatest difficulty, but those in charge are confident that assistance will be obtained for that type of construction.

orders filled for the most part. The Jonathan packing is at its peak in Penticton, with Delicious just starting in the Oliver packing houses. A few more days should find the Delicious coming in generally. All varieties are now being picked in greater or less degree.

A ten per cent. general cut in estimates of the apple crop is now being reported, but quality is excellent on the whole. Codling moth is not as severe, in the south, as it has been in other seasons. Shippers were authorized Sept. 25, market, 10 per cent. of the total volume of Delicious. Cartel No. 2. This order is valid only for shipments to Eastern Canada. The release for markets west of Fort William has not yet been issued.

B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. has decided that there will not be any levy imposed on pears this year. The Flemish Beauties are now starting to move out a bit more rapidly, after a difficult marketing period. Apple prices set recently quote Jonathan.

"HI-JINKS" MOST ENJOYABLE EVENT FOR SCHOOL GIRLS

Girls' Club, Under Direction of Miss Dimock, Holds Fancy Dress Party

The Girls Club of the Vernon High School, under the direction of Miss Dimock, began the year's activities with "Hi-Jinks." This took the form of a fancy dress party held in the Scout Hall on Saturday morning from 10 till 12 o'clock. About 125 girls were present, all in costume. Pirates, tramps, and gypsies mingled with Spanish señoritas, Japanese maidens, pierrots and pierrettes. Ladies of the Gay Nineties danced with Robin Hood and Wild West Cowboys. Hawaiian dancers chatted with coal black mammoths. These are only a few of the various characters that were present at the Scout Hall.

The girls enjoyed a popularity contest which was won by Earla Sauder. Following this came the Grand March, during which time the judging of the costumes took place. Mrs. Pepper, Mrs. Fulton and Miss Adam, who acted as judges, found it most difficult to select the winners, owing to the number and variety of the costumes.

Prizes for the most original couple were awarded to Myrna Chapple and Mildred Lockwood dressed to represent two dice. In this class honorable mention was given to Joan Greenwood and Betty McCulloch as waiter and set table; also to Doris Kinnard and Dorothea Greenwood, who were splendid advertisements for Okanagan apples.

Betty Larson and Pamela McPhee dressed in Turkish and Spanish costumes received prizes for the prettiest couple. Here honorable mention was given to Helen Kinnard and Enid Bennett as pierrot and pierrette.

Prizes for the best comic group went to Janet Clark, Betty Pearce, and Marjorie French. Janet and Betty very cleverly converted themselves into a horse, and Marjorie made an excellent cowboy. Honorable mention was given to Anne Beddome as Aunt Jemima, and her partner, Catherine Ormsby, as Mr. Peanut.

Outstanding costumes were worn by two little Japanese girls, Masako Nishiki and Josephine Toriuchi, in native dress. Lorraine Reinhard and Patsy Cochrane could hardly be mistaken as Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire. Adeline Simpson and Jean Finlayson wore picturesque Turkish costumes.

After the presentation of prizes by Mrs. Pepper, folk-dancing and games followed. These were very ably directed by Miss Fulton. Further entertainment was provided by Patsy Cochrane and Pat King. Patsy gave a splendid exhibition of acrobatic dancing, and Pat, of tap-dancing.

THUMBS DOWN ON BETTER SCHOOLS

VERNON has, for the second time this year, turned down by-laws presented for the purpose of solving this city's school accommodation problem, and the trustees, adopting the only course that seems logical, have resigned.

Four members of the board of five have already tendered their resignations and the remaining member, the chairman, Hamilton Lang, is continuing only until arrangements can be completed for the appointment of successors. Mr. Lang, it might be said, is continuing as a one-man board, but to all intents and purposes, the entire board can be regarded as having registered a forcible protest in leaving office.

To say that the board has taken the only logical course in resigning is to say that it has at least been consistent.

The trustees have for a lengthy period stated that the present make-shift system is inadequate and costly, that this system cannot provide for the new curriculum drafted by the educational authorities, that it works an injustice upon the pupils, and that it is against the good name and future prospects of the city. They declared that they were offering the taxpayers the only practicable and, under the circumstances, cheapest way in their considered opinion to clear up the situation. And to have continued in office, after this solution was refused by the voters, would have been to take an indefensible position.

However, the old blunt fact, that this city's school accommodation is shamefully inadequate, still remains, and it will now be up to some other body of men to cope with the difficulties presented.

The problem has been evident for a long time. But just why the voters turned their backs on the trustees' proposal to alleviate that problem is by no means so evident. Some may have felt that the trustees could have found a more economical way out. Others, however, thought that the site was unsatisfactory, and from the results of the vote it is apparent that more were opposed to the site than to the actual building program. There were no doubt many other reasons in the minds of voters who chose to mark their ballots against the by-laws.

Yet it may be safely suggested that if all these voters had been as closely in touch with the situation as the trustees were, many supposed reasons for opposition would probably never have materialized.

The whole trouble has been, perhaps, that the general public has not been as close to school problems as it might well have been. Though lately the School Board has had its meetings open to the press, for many years a cloistered policy was adopted. And if the public is permitted to have nothing more than a smattering of School Board news, that public cannot be greatly blamed if it fails to catch the Board's viewpoint, or appreciate its position.

The board may have made mistakes, such as this one. Every group of men makes mistakes. Yet it cannot be charged against these trustees, that they lacked painstaking diligence, or that they failed to apply themselves with conscientious zeal to their important and difficult duties. In all fairness they and, more important, the school children they acted for, could have received better treatment at the hands of the voters. And even opponents of the recent by-laws must surely regret that the city is losing the services of these now well-informed trustees.

One of the members of the board, Joe Harwood, is ending thirty years of continuous service as a trustee. It might well have been wished for him that the new school would be endorsed, and that it would be called the "Joe Harwood School."

But as the problem still remains, and a new school must inevitably come in one form or another, there is consolation in the thought that there will be some day provided an opportunity of perpetuating the name of this trustee, even if he is not then on the board he served so heartily for so long.

GOOD OLD McINTOSH RED APPLES

WHAT a magnificent showing the Okanagan Valley McIntosh apples are making this year. Not for many years has there been the color that is everywhere in evidence on this season's apples.

To start with, there has seldom been a more disastrous winter. But from the opening of Spring there was plenty of moisture and a lush growth. Conditions were ideal until the heat of July and August brought out the damage done last year. Apple trees with apples the size of big crabapples, turned up their toes, but the Macs are not of that type. They stand the frost and the drought and heat of Summer gave place to Fall there was a return of ideal conditions. There were rains to wash off the dust of Summer. There was no smoke screen to hide the sun. There were cool and frosty nights, and how those Macs did put on the color!

Nature with her paint brush out-did any mald with her rouge and lipstick. So the Okanagan McIntosh apples rolled to market in a steady ruddy stream. Good old Macs. And nowhere are the Macs of better color, more delicious, more attractive in aroma, or more crisp and juicy, than those from the Vernon district, 320,000 boxes of them.

GOOD MEN IN GOOD TERRITORY

SALSMANSHIP honors have been won quite a number of times by Okanagan Valley residents since the depression hit Canada so hard. This week it is announced that Cecil Clarke of MacKenzie, White & Dunsmuir, Ltd., has won first place over all salesmen of the Dominion selling Firestone tires. Last week, F. O. Dowdell, of Penticton, and formerly a resident and salesman of Vernon, won an Empire-wide sales contest conducted by Beatty Bros. Before that there had been other awards, all of which tend to show that the purchasing power of the residents of the Okanagan Valley has been maintained as well as or better than elsewhere in Canada.

Of course the salesmen had to be good. There is no discounting that. In the case of Mr. Clarke there were many competitors and in the competition won by Dowdell there were 600 others trying to equal or better his record.

But no matter how good the salesman, he had to have first a good article to sell then a rich producing territory to operate in, or success could not have crowned his efforts. The answer to the best this or that is that a good man has to operate in a good territory in order to win a Canadian or Empire sales award. Either the man or the territory could have spoiled the chances of success. In these instances both man and territory were tip top.

Hurrah for the Okanagan Valley and its citizens.

LOVE

You are the flight of homing wings at dusk:
You are the eager feet of morning,
And the weary, folded hands of eventide.
You are the light that lingers longest
Upon the hills: — and in the eyes.
You are the highest star in a steadfast heaven.
You are the eyes of a little mothered child.
The gift of peace. The name upon a grave.

You are the blue-bird in a poor man's garden;
And the song that sweeps the skies,
Though lips are dumb. You are the sharp surprise
Of beauty. The anguish of a cross.
You are the dream that never dies.
You are love.

MUNICIPAL OFFICES ARE IMPORTANT

ATTENTION is directed to the variety and scope of the resolutions considered at the meeting of the Union of B.C. Municipalities in Vernon last week. Aspirants for civic honors would do well to secure the whole list and then to ponder their experience and training in the light of the information they have on these diverse affairs. How would you react if the decision on many of these matters lay with you?

And not only have the Mayors, Aldermen, Reeves, and Councilors to pass on questions such as these, but they have the everyday affairs of the Council to decide as well.

There are few more important offices to be filled by men who are the choice of the electorate than that of Mayor or Reeve in a moderately busy and rich municipality. Not very many men are filled by experience or training for these posts and consideration of them makes it more than ever apparent that no man should seek election as a Mayor or a Reeve who has not first served an apprenticeship on a municipal council.

It must be evident that considerable of the mistakes made by civic bodies are due to lack of experience by those to whom authority has been entrusted because of popularity rather than fitness for office.

SHORT TOMATO CANNING SEASON

CANNING tomatoes is over for this year and the pack put up by Bullman's Limited is not so large as it was hoped it would be, by the firm, the growers, and the workers.

The hot weather during July and August apparently affected the vines so that they did not bear as heavily as usual. The same hot spell ruined the plants in Ontario where there is no irrigation and as the canning season approached it was anticipated that a tremendous pack would be put up in this province. In order to remove some barriers to putting up the largest pack the Industrial Relations Board was induced to alter its regulations regarding the rates of pay for overtime work. There was no abuse of the privilege.

No one could foresee that an early frost would cut down the pack but that may be a not unkind blessing because it is understood that the quality was not of the very best on towards the latter end of the season.

It is too bad that the pack was not larger because there is not a very great quantity of this exceptionally healthful food. And many of the workers in the cannery could have used the money they would have earned to great advantage.

However while our situation is not the very best, it is so much better than others have to endure that there should only be thankfulness in our hearts.

THE KING'S REPRESENTATIVE

HIS Honor E. W. Hamber, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, made a decidedly favorable impression during a recent tour of the Okanagan. In the north, coming at the time of the Interior Provincial Exhibition, not as much was made of his visit as would have been had he come at a time when there were not so many pressing affairs to be attended to. Just the same, nothing like a fair could eclipse his presence.

The new Lieutenant-Governor is a fine big man, physically and mentally. He has a practical knowledge of business in which he has won quite a place. The new honors given him have not inflated his ego. He is still a plain man interested in everything that goes on about him and comprehending its significance. He is taking the duties of his new office as the King's representative seriously, and he is fitting himself for them by a knowledge of the province and its people.

Eric Hamber, as he will always be to many people, does not rank high in personal magnetism but he has an uncommon amount of good common sense which is a very tangible asset even in a Lieutenant-Governor.

SUMMER'S PLAY IS FINISHED

CLOSURE of tennis courts, lawn bowling greens and golf courses for the 1936 season marks the end of a most enjoyable season's play. Many persons, men and women, old and young, find on these courses, greens and courts, the sort of mixed athletic and social activities they most enjoy.

British Columbia is blessed with good weather for long periods in the spring, summer, and autumn, and the long outdoor playing season is of great benefit. The people also are of the sort who enjoy such sports and in this way they get a great deal out of life that people in other sections of the world miss. Many of them do not know what they miss but we do. There are not many sections of Canada in which a small group of individuals get so much out of their tennis season as do Ewing's Landing and Okanagan Centre. Isolated in a sense, radio and the mails keep them in touch with the outside world, and at home they make their own fun, and how they do enjoy tennis!

What Other Editors Say

WHO IS IN FRONT OF YOUR GUN-SIGHTS? CRANBROOK COURIER.—Hunting season is with us once again, and already this year several accidents have been recorded in this province, despite the annual plea for carefulness appearing in the columns of the press. At this time of the year it is well to remember that death stalks through the woods in the form of the nut carrying a high-power rifle who is ready to blaze away at the first indistinct object which moves in his path. For their own peace of mind, as well as for the safety of their fellow men, hunters should bear in mind that old warning, "Don't shoot till you can see the whites of his eyes!"

The danger in the woods during hunting season is always greatly under-estimated, and until hunters realize their responsibility and exercise the greatest care at all times there will always be the annual toll of tragic and needless fatalities.

"It was an accident!" is mighty poor consolation for the surviving relatives of the victim of a hunting mishap, and a charge of manslaughter is not a pleasant thing to face.

There is no vice so simple but assumes some mark of virtue on his outward parts

The Way of Indian Fishing

By Dolores Gabriel

THE blueberries have been picked, dried, and put away for winter use, and the chokecherries are rounded and ripened in the hot summer sun. By these signs the men of the tribe know it is time to prepare for fishing.

There is an undercurrent of excitement in the camp. Fish means food against the long winter months, and food is life for those who live with Nature.

The women have no part in these preparations so far. They are still busy with the berry picking, dividing the tasks, some picking berries on the hillside and in the valley, others remaining in camp weaving the mats on which the berries are laid to dry.

A black smoke of pitch fires rises above the camp. Old men sit around the camp, shaping, polishing and sharpening fish hooks. Young men are off in the hills, dragging back behind their horses young growth of jack pine and a good supply of fir pitch. All are busy, the young man giving of his strength for the tribe, the old man of his experience. All play a part, women and children, young men and old, and every part is necessary for the life of the tribe.

The jack-pine is cut, then peeled and scraped until the size and shape are right for its use. Sometimes the pole is an even thickness, sometimes it is a little smaller at either end, making it balance easier. Some poles are twenty feet in length.

When the poles have been scraped smooth and round with a flint, they are held over a pitch fire to blacken. They must be darkened before they can be used—salmon can see light poles and would be frightened away.

Fish hooks are made of either bone or flint. The old men sit at home making these hooks. There are two kinds, one shaped like an arrow and the other like a white woman's crocheting hook. They can be used differently but often with the arrow-shaped hook in the center and one of the other hooks on either side. Sometimes these hooks are tied to the end of the pole and sometimes they are attached to pieces of Indian rope which is used to catch the fish.

The end of the pole by first wrapping the three ends of the fish hooks with buckskin, then pouring boiling hot pitch over the buckskin, this tightens and hardens it. Then more buckskin is wrapped around the hooks and around the pole and more pitch is poured on. The buckskin and pitch have been hardened by heat so the hooks will not come off in the water.

When the hooks are used the other way they are slipped into slots at the end of the pole, then when the fish is hooked they fly loose on the end of the rope and the Indian plays his fish.

Now the fishing season is approaching and preparations are almost finished. Many fishing poles have been made ready, each man must have at least five. Other poles are roughly cut to carry the fish. The women, too, have prepared their drying racks. These are made by first tying four groups of short poles together with three poles to a group. These are tied with Indian rope. They are placed about eight or ten feet apart and they support cross poles a foot apart. Then small, straight sticks are laid crosswise and the fish are hung on these sticks.

When the sagebrush (qualquamaneepe) is in yellow bloom it is time for the kukhula. Many tribes gather—Okanagan, Similkameen (the lost tribe), Kalkaneep and Ashnola. They gather around the campfires on the banks of the Okanagan. It is a time of unrest and excitement. Every morning just before sunrise men go down to the river and watch for the coming of the fish. In the camps the last preparations go hurriedly on. At last the fish are heard coming up the streams. Men jump on rafts (silkoos) and holding burning pitch give them light, push out into the river, and the catch begins.

First come the Kikicnees (landlocked salmon), and for two weeks, while they are still red and healthy, the fishing goes on day and night. As the Kikicnees lose their color and taste, new schools of fish start to run, the Tyee (Columbia River salmon) and then the Skillicwees (steelhead). Now all the tribe are busy, the men are throwing the fish out on the banks as fast as they can; the women are gathering the fish from the banks, cutting and cleaning them, washing them and laying them on mats to let the water run off. The back-bone is cut out of the fish and small sticks are put in to stretch the salmon ready for drying racks. The heads are cut off, then they are hung on the racks by small sticks put through the tail.

It is a time of feasting and rejoicing in the camp. Around the campfires at night the Indians play lalal and other games. The sound of the tom-tom-throbs like a heartbeat to the night-filled rhythm of the Whanah, the Joy-dance of the Okanagan. The Great Spirit has brought plenty to his people.

The Story of Penny Postage

An interesting envelope and card in the possession of a local resident commemorates the Post Office Jubilee of Uniform Penny Postage. The issue was made in 1890 and it is a unique souvenir. It reminds us of days that are gone. In the top right hand corner there is the penny postage stamp of Queen Victoria and on the opposite corner is the stamp supported by a shamrock.

These two are placed above the then familiar V.R. Between these two is depicted a coach and four carrying the north mail making for Highgate, in 1790, at 8 miles an hour.

On each side of the space reserved for the address are postmen. In 1840 there were four rates 4d, 8d, 4d, and 2/6. The postman in those days wore a silk hat. On the other side is shown what was then a "modern" postman carrying a sack of 1d post letter. Across the bottom is a picture of the train carrying mail. The engine drew an odd assortment of nine cars of varying size and design, and was six times as speedy as the coach of a century earlier.

Accompanying the postcard and envelope is another drawn for Punch by Harry Furness, in burlesque. There is of course no stamp there, but the envelope is occupied by it is outlined. In the opposite corner are figures of weary postmen carrying a load. "We've too much work to do-o," they are crying.

There are subtle hints of "red tape," of post office strikes, of postal profits. The inference to be drawn is that, though a great advance had been made, there was still at that date, in 1890, considerable popular dissatisfaction.

In the background is also shown Sir Rowland Hill, the man who was, a few years later, to effect many reforms then being agitated for, and who brought penny postage into effective operation.

Okanagan Horse Holiday

For a short time each year Okanagan saddle ponies cease leaning on fences and striving after the neighbor's alfalfa. The surprised animal becomes the object of ceaseless attention. He is groomed and petted and exercised, and he is the center of a world of admiration.

And the riders buy saddle soap and rush breeches off to the cleaners in a tardy effort to get things cleaned up for the show. And the riding clubs stage feverish last minute meets to try and figure out how they can put it over their rivals.

Anticipation, enthusiasm, and oats reach their peak on the morning of the Thursday program. It is then that the horses prance into the Armstrong show ring, sporting the latest shade of hoof polish and even a hint of hair oil. And the riders sit in their saddles with an air of apparent unconcern, all the time hoping fervently that no one in the crowd will open an umbrella suddenly under Snooker's nose, because he has obviously had too much oats, and is liable to start for home any moment.

And then of course there is the racing and jumping in the afternoon but all too soon it is over. The horse has had his day and he is made to have a day's rest in the old home pasture. Chances are the grass will have grown another thirty second of an inch in his absence.

If your liver is not what it ought to be, try a fast ride around the race track with a horse blowing either stirrup and another kicking the mud up ahead. First class sensation this, especially if there is a row of hurdles ahead and fifteen hundred people clinging to the rails, hoping you will fall off and amuse them.—Nigel Pooley.

The Small Town Man

Here is another weary, jaded columnist of a city paper stating his belief that light and leading may be found outside Vancouver. This is Mr. Bruce Hutchinson, probably the best-known and widely read journalist in the province today.

He writes in the Victoria Times:

"The other day I was talking to a man who lives by choice in one of the little towns up the island. He has travelled most places, seen the world and has settled in a village rather than Victoria because he likes it. I asked him how a man who had seen the world's cities and the more pretentious aspects of life could be content among the simple people of the country and the intellectual stagnation of his surroundings. His answer I considered significant:

"That, my friends, is where you are quite wrong," said he. "The people in the small town are not half as stagnant intellectually as the people of a big city. The small-town man is broader in his ideas than the big city man."

"Why the best brain I have ever met, and I have seen some of the most famous, lives on a little farm in the Comox Valley in a house that cost $200 to build and has no plumbing. That's why I live in a village—not for love of nature and the outdoors, but because I'm interested in people. That is where they live. Only the shadows of people live in cities. You," said my friend to me, "are one of them."

"This, I am convinced, is true."

Mr. Hutchinson should now tell us who this "best brain" is that we have among us.

Some Facts About McIntosh Apples

The practice of apple storage as an integral operation in the distribution and marketing of the apple crops of Canada has become of increasing importance in recent years. The maintenance of apples at low temperatures is generally recognized as the most economical method of extending their life span and reducing losses between the time they are harvested and the time they are offered for sale on a distant market. For the commercial practice of apple storage, mechanical refrigeration (cold storage) is now widely adopted. Consequently, the application of cold storage for the storage of apples on a large scale has come the recognition of a host of complex problems which can only be solved by intensive investigation, according to M. B. Davis, of the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, writing in a recent issue of the "Canadian Horticulturist" magazine.

Many phases in connection with the storage of apples have been the subject of intensive study in countries commercially interested in the apple trade and researches of a more or less empirical nature have presented information of definite value. It is unfortunate, however, that considerable confusion still exists and will persist until more information is available as to the life processes of the apple. The storage life of a number of different samples of apples, quite aside from varietal differences, is dependent upon the interaction of several factors; among which may be enumerated nutrition, maturity at time of picking, interval between gathering and storing, temperature in the storage, humidity of the atmosphere in the storage and composition of the atmosphere in the storage.

The researches of the Low Temperature Laboratory, Horticultural Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, over a period of four years have incorporated a study of the behaviour of McIntosh and Fameuse apples under cold storage conditions when grown on trees subjected to varying cultural and nutritional treatments, picked at different storage temperatures and compositions of storage atmosphere.

Time of harvesting has a much greater influence on the ultimate keeping quality of fruit than many growers realize. The investigations at Ottawa show that the successful storage of McIntosh and Fameuse apples largely depends upon the fruit being gathered at the right stage of maturity. Apples of these varieties when gathered in an immature condition, shrivel badly in storage and rarely attain perfection of color, texture and fullness of flavor found in more mature specimens. On the other hand, over-maturity may cause losses as serious, or even more serious, than those due to immaturity.

Apples on the left on the trees until their characteristic aroma is present, their life in storage will be relatively short. Apples allowed to remain on the tree until overripe are much further advanced in their life processes than if picked at proper maturity and break down more rapidly in storage. Overmature McIntosh and Fameuse apples become mealy and break down prematurely in storage. The final break-down is due either to premature physiological decay which shows in the form of internal browning such as that known as "Jonathan break-down" or to fungous rot which weakens fruit and causes it to rot in general.

Apples for long term storage should be picked a few days earlier than they would be if intended for immediate market. What is the correct time to pick McIntosh and Fameuse apples? The answer to this question can only be decided by the grower on the spot, since conditions affecting maturity, vary not only with the variety but with the soil, the locality, the soil, the method of culture, the tree and even the position of the fruit on the tree. Proper maturity does not mean "eating-ripe," as in nearly every case an eating-ripe fruit is overmature for storage. There are, however, a number of guiding principles which have been thoroughly tested at Ottawa in determining the desired maturity of these varieties. Ground color, iodine starch reaction, ease of separation from the spur and size of fruit are the most dependable indicators.

Loss from shrinkage or shrivelling is due to two causes: (1) rate of respiration or the fruit controlled by temperature and composition of the atmosphere; (2) evaporation, transpiration or desiccation of the fruit controlled by the relative humidity of the store.

Shrinkage is a fundamentally important consideration in the storage of apples for long periods under cold storage conditions, because excessive wilting or shrivelling affects the marketability of the fruit, often incurring serious losses. The investigations at Ottawa show that there is a marked increase in the shrinkage of McIntosh and Fameuse apples at the higher temperatures but shrinkage is very slight at the 30 degrees and 32 degrees Fahrenheit, providing a relative humidity of between 85 per cent, and 90 per cent is maintained. Whereas, at the 40 degrees F. temperature it is excessive even in the presence of a high relative humidity. Immature apples, in both varieties, exhibit a high percentage of shrinkage at all temperatures. The results here show that there is a certain stage of maturity, in McIntosh and Fameuse apples, when storage shrinkage is at a minimum. Shrinkage, no doubt, is correlated with respiration rate.

Apple-skin is a non-porous tissue which causes a superficial brown discoloration of the skin, unaccompanied by softening or browning of the flesh tissues.

The trials to date at this laboratory show conclusively that apple-skin in McIntosh and Fameuse apples within the store can be largely controlled by the use of oil wrappers or shredded paper distributed amongst the fruit.

From the practical point of view, however, perhaps the most important factor in the investigation is that apples apparently free from skin should not be placed in cold storage until they have been exposed to room temperature at 65 degrees F. even though oil wrappers were present. It is significant in this connection that those samples which developed skin on removal from storage were definitely immature when placed in storage and the data show clearly that such losses can be eliminated by picking at the proper stage of maturity.

BRIDE HONORED AT ARMSTRONG

Mrs. H. D. McCallan Is Tendered Post-Nuptial Shower By Her Friends

ARMSTRONG, B.C., Sept. 29.—In honor of Mrs. H. D. McCallan, who, before her recent marriage was Miss Mabel Mason, the home of Mrs. F. J. Becker on Becker Street was the scene of a delightful post-nuptial shower on the afternoon of Wednesday, September 23. The guest of honor was the last of over forty guests to arrive, and as she sat beside a prettily decorated table in the living room, the opening of the dining room door revealed to her complete surprise the smiling faces of her host of friends.

The first shock of surprise over, an additional stir was created by the arrival of two little messengers, Shirley Becker and Audrey Clinton, bearing a gaily decorated basket, the opening of which disclosed a wealth of parcels, the practical nature of whose contents will long serve the bride as a constant remembrance of her girlhood friends.

Assisted by her mother, Mrs. E. Mason, in opening and displaying the many useful and beautiful gifts, Mrs. McCallan sufficiently recovered from her surprise to thank her friends for their good wishes so practically and delightfully expressed.

A social hour was then much enjoyed by all present, during which dainty refreshments were served, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. T. Clinton, and the Misses Lillian Mitchell, Genevieve Becker, Shirley Becker, and Audrey Clinton.

In writing, indicate the design number. For example, the knitted dress featured on this page this week is "Design No. 107".

Mayfair's embroidery, knitting and crocheting feature caters to the present-day popular vogue for needlework. It provides advantages which will be thoroughly appreciated by women readers.

Few women can follow abbreviated knitting instructions. Mayfair has therefore dispensed entirely with abbreviations in written directions.

Mayfair is the only feature which supplies separate knitting directions for all sizes, and also a complete and separate tissue pattern for blocking a garment in the exact size requested, after it is knit.

The advantages of the blocking pattern are that each piece is blocked to the correct shape of the pattern before the garment is assembled. The result is a well fitting garment that will keep its shape at all times, because every seam is the correct length, and all rows and stitches are matched correctly.

All Mayfair Needle-art Patterns include samples of the materials used for making the original garment or articles and this is very important since it assists in getting the exactly right type of yarn, crocheting cotton or embroidery thread required. No other service gives you this aid.

When a woman reader orders a Mayfair crochet design, she receives not only complete instructions for crocheting the design but also instructions for finishing the article. Unless one is familiar with needlework this point may not seem of great importance; yet it is important to needle-women for the following reason. It is a simple matter to crochet lace and because of our comprehensive instructions it is easy to get the squares of the serviette exactly the size they should be, hemmed as they should be, and the entire article correctly assembled. In almost every home one finds pieces of crocheting which have never been sewn to the linen or fabric as was intended originally. For this reason Mayfair pays special attention to this phase of the work.

The Mayfair Needle-art quilt pattern of the design, clear and intelligent instructions for assembling the squares after they are worked, and directions for making the quilt after the squares are assembled.

The embroidery pattern contains a transfer of the design and, in many instances, extra motifs with suggestions for their use, a tissue pattern for guidance in cutting the material, and complete working and assembling instructions. The various stitches used are carefully illustrated, and Mayfair has endeavored to include new stitches in many of the designs.

This adds pleasure to the execution of the design, but we have been careful to maintain simplicity also.

These patterns are not only for the accomplished needlewoman. They are equally suited to the beginner who will have no difficulty with the precise, well illustrated directions.

WEDDING BELLS

Buller-Spilly
ARMSTRONG, B.C., Sept. 29.—At the Armstrong Baptist Church on Thursday afternoon, September 24, in the presence of some seventy-five friends and invited guests, Rev. J. M. Netterfield, pastor of the church, united in marriage Pauline, the daughter of Mrs. A. Spilly, of Vernon, and John Buller, of Armstrong.

The church was tastefully decorated with a profusion of pink, white, and blue flowers. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, William Spilly, and looked charming in her ankle length dress of white satin and floor length veil with crown effect. She carried a bridal bouquet of white mums, and was attended by her adopted sister, Miss Edna Spilly, who was dressed in pale blue satin. The groom was supported by his brother, Arnie Buller, and Wilmer Aslin and William Danallanko acted as ushers.

Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Miss Murray, of Enderby, and during the signing of the register Wilmer Aslin sang, "I Love You Truly."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Spilly, where the dining room had been suitably decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers and a large wedding bell, the table decorations consisting of dainty rosebuds in vases, centred by a beautifully decorated wedding cake.

Here some 35 friends gathered to extend felicitations to the happy young couple, who later left amid showers of confetti and good wishes, for a brief honeymoon trip to Vancouver and Victoria. On their return they will take up their residence on Jarvis Street, Armstrong.

Out of town guests included the bride's mother, her sister, Edna, and brother, Jack, of Vernon, and Miss Helena Askey, also of Vernon.

ALBERTA GIRL STRUCK BY VERNON MOTORIST

KELOWNA, B.C., Sept. 25.—Two miles north of Kelowna on the Kelowna-Vernon road, F. E. Lewis, of Vernon, struck Miss Jenne Filipkowski, who was walking on the side of the highway, on Thursday evening, September 17, at 8 o'clock.

Miss Filipkowski, who resides at Vermilion, Alta., suffered a fractured right leg and lacerations and abrasions of the face. She is now in the Kelowna Hospital recovering from her accident.

A light rain was falling at the time and Lewis was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car he stated in his report to the police. He had slowed down the speed of his auto as the car approached, and did not see the girl until six feet away.

Miss Filipkowski was wearing dark clothes at the time of the accident, and was walking on the right hand side of the highway. Mr. Lewis was proceeding in the direction of Kelowna.

Tested Recipes

Preserved Vegetables

One advantage of the method of preserving vegetables by fermentation and salting is that containers, such as old kegs, butter tubs, or stone crocks, may be used. Wooden kegs or pails to be used for pickling should be washed with boiling water and washing soda, allowing one handful of soda per gallon of boiling water. After thorough scrubbing, the keg should be rinsed with hot water and several lots of cold water. In the pamphlet on "Jams, Jellies, and Pickles" issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, full information is given about the making of these comestibles, together with instructions for the preservation of vegetables by salting without preservation, by fermentation in brine, by the sauerkraut method, and by numerous recipes for relishes and pickles.

Sauerkraut

In making sauerkraut, the outer leaves of the cabbage and any decayed or bruised leaves should be discarded, as well as the core. The cabbage should be shredded with a slaw-cutter or a sharp knife. After weighing, the cabbage should be packed immediately in a watertight receptacle. It has been found that one pound of salt to 40 pounds of cabbage gives the best flavor to the finished product. The cabbage should be pressed down as firmly as possible and covered with a cloth, a clean piece of board, and a stone weight. The weight should be sufficient to cause the brine to rise above the board. The container should be set in a warm place until fermentation is complete. Before adding a layer of hot paraffin wax to prevent a scum forming, such scum as there is should be taken off. If the sauerkraut is made in the late fall, the layer of paraffin wax will not be necessary as the sauerkraut can be frozen as soon as fermentation is complete.

Cucumbers for Winter Salad

Cucumbers for salads in winter may be prepared in the following manner: Wash, peel, and slice cucumbers; pack in a crock in layers, beginning with a layer of salt, then a layer of sliced cucumbers until the crock is filled; finish with a layer of salt, and put a plate on top with a weight on top of that. Soak in water overnight before using, changing the water several times.

In making home-made jams, jellies or pickles, one important legal point

T. E. Patrick Bags Fine Animal While At Sugar Lake Forestry Look-Out

LUMBY, B.C., Sept. 28.—Mrs. Hartley, and her son, Basil Hartley, left last week for their home in Victoria. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Derby, having disposed of their Oliver property, are visiting relatives here before leaving for Vancouver.

T. E. Patrick, who recently came down from the Sugar Lake forestry look-out, is the proud possessor of a pure white rug, having shot a fine mountain goat while up there.

It is expected the High School will shortly be far enough built to permit of pupils occupying it.

And while on the subject of school it will interest the ratepayers to know that the estimate of 125 pupils attending this year at Lumby Superior School was very much out, as a roll call last week disclosed there were 165.

must be kept in mind. If the jams, jellies or pickles are to be sold outside the province in which they were made, a permit must be required from the Fruit Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. ## Synopsis of Land Act

PRE-EMPTIONS
VACANT, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation and improvement.

Full information concerning pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., Bureau of Provincial Information, or any Government Agent. Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes within reasonable distance of road, school and marketing facilities and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre of forest range and 5,000 feet per acre west of that range. Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division in which the land applied for is situated, on printed forms obtained from the Commissioner. Pre-emption must be completed for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received. Pre-emption carrying part time conditions of occupation are also granted.

PURCHASE OR LEASE
Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands not being timberland, for agricultural purposes. Minimum price of first-class (arable) land is 15 per acre and second-class (grazing) land, $2.50 per acre. Further information is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

As a partial relief measure, reverted lands may be acquired by purchase in ten equal instalments, with the first payment suspended for two years, provided taxes are paid when due and improvements are made during the first two years of not less than 10% of the appraised value. Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased on conditions including payment of stumpage. Unserved areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesteads, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtained after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company. Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the regulations administered under grazing regulations amended from time to time to meet varying conditions. Annual grazing permits are issued based on certain monthly rates per head of stock. Resident stock owners are given a resident stock permit. Stock-owners may form associations for range management and lease partially free permits available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

U.S. APPLES ARE NOW MOVING OUT AT A RAPID RATE

WENATCHEE, Wash., Sept. 28.—Movement of apples by the carload to markets in the East is stepping up rapidly as September passes and the harvest peak expected about October 1 draws nearer.

So far, 4,960 carloads of apples have been shipped, Washington state leading three to one over Virginia and West Virginia, its nearest competitors. Washington has shipped 1,319 cars, Idaho 76, Oregon 147, New York 191, Virginia 380 and West Virginia 408.

Yesterday, 236 carloads were shipped, 93 of which were from Washington state. California shipped 11, Colorado 1, Delaware 4, Idaho 16, Illinois 3, Kansas 2, Maryland 12, Michigan 1, New Jersey 1, New York 7, Oregon 1, Pennsylvania 13, Virginia 32, West Virginia 38, and Wisconsin 1.

Millions of central and eastern families go direct to the orchard and get lower grade fruit. Better quality apples are picked up at the orchard by trucks and hauled hundreds of miles to markets. None of this tonnage is represented in the government shipping figures.

Re-union of Old-Timers Is Feature of Armstrong Fair: Almost One Hundred Attend

H. M. Walker Named President Of Association—Many Addresses Given

ARMSTRONG, B.C., Sept. 21.—In keeping with other features of the exhibition, the annual reunion and banquet of the North Okanagan Old-Timers' Association was held at noon on Thursday, the closing day of the exhibition. Twelve o'clock found the dining room of the Recreation Hall comfortably filled by a happy and expectant group numbering almost one hundred, some of whom look back upon upwards of half a century of pioneering and progress in the valley.

The catering arrangements were in charge of Mrs. R. Thomas, who, with a group of able assistants, had spared no pains in furnishing the two tables which ran the length of the room with a display that was most pleasing to the eye as well as tempting to the appetite. As the banquet proceeded, the spirit of good fellowship was everywhere in evidence, and the occasion lent itself to ready reminiscence.

Having allowed sufficient time for the enjoyment of the feast, the president, C. B. Lefroy, of Vernon, called the gathering to order for the purpose of a more formal exchange of reminiscences and the transaction of business necessary to the annual re-union of the association. He reminded those present that it was the old-timers, many of whom were present on this occasion and many others who had passed to their reward, who had accepted this valley at the hand of nature and had made it the place it now is, to live in. A commonly accepted summation up of life is that it consists in one's duty to God and to his neighbor.

These were the ideals held and followed by many of the pioneers, and had their successors followed more closely in their footsteps, much of the trouble and unrest of the present day would be unknown. An apt illustration of development was found in the diamond. In its rough state it possesses no particular beauty except to the eye of the expert who recognizes its possibilities. But with the processes of cutting and polishing the hidden beauties are brought to light, and the perfection of the gem is easily recognizable. So with life, young people are like diamonds in the rough; but with the processes of time the rough corners are removed, and, with proper environment and guidance, in time the sparkling character stands out like the polished diamond.

Dr. MacDonald Attends
The first to be called upon to speak was Hon. Dr. K. C. MacDonald, provincial Minister of Agriculture. He expressed the pleasure afforded him in the privilege of being present at this thirty-first visit to Armstrong at Exhibition time. He was particularly pleased at the privilege of foregrounding with the old-timers at their annual banquet. He felt that the general situation in the valley at the present time was most promising, though all the difficulties were not yet overcome. Agriculture was the one basic industry, and this valley is especially favored with natural advantages. With the march of progress, however, and the growing interdependence of the various industries, the merchandising of the products of the soil presents a great problem. To one as accustomed as he to matters pertaining to legislation it seems a strange thing that it should be so easy to draft and put into effect legislation that will satisfactorily control the trade and production of the valley with the one exception of agriculture. He was, however, not discouraged, and with the co-operation of the men on the soil, he looked forward to brighter prospects.

Grote Stirling, M.P., was the next speaker. His first wish was to convey to the president his sincere congratulations on his return to health and duties from his recent illness. He also wished to congratulate the old-timers on their splendid organization and on the spirit engendered by it. As for the exhibition in general, he never lost an opportunity while in the east of telling the people from other parts of Canada how fairs should be conducted, and he conducted at Armstrong in British Columbia. In this connection he paid glowing tribute to the secretary-manager of the exhibition, Matt Hansen, and to his capable board of directors. Referring to present conditions in matters agricultural, Mr. Stirling commended the attitude of the provincial Minister of Agriculture, Hon. Dr. MacDonald, in his efforts to co-operate with the federal authorities to secure united action that will prove beneficial to the farmers of all parts of the Dominion.

George Bell was next called upon. He stated that he had first come to the Okanagan Valley 46 years ago. Twenty-five years ago he had left the valley to make his home elsewhere, since that time he had kept in touch with friends in the valley through frequent visits, but chiefly through reading every week the valley papers. Much as he appreciated the value of such papers in retaining his contacts with the valley, he valued much more highly the opportunities afforded for personal contacts on occasions such as the present.

Greetings From Coast
Mr. Knowlton, of Vancouver, a director of the Vancouver Exhibition Association, brought greetings from that body. His visit impressed him with the great richness of the valley in natural products, and the necessity for greater marketing facilities was everywhere in evidence. A suggestion that might lead to worthwhile results was offered by this speaker.

He invited the growers of the Okanagan Valley to send exhibits to the Vancouver Fair. These could be arranged in such a manner as to make the best of advertising for the valley, and might result in wider markets. The fair board would be willing to pay well for such an exhibit, and for prime fruits and vegetables to be used at banquets and other functions in connection with the fair. Such a use of Okanagan products should constitute the very best type of advertising.

Another Vancouver visitor was K. J. Burns, who was also called upon. He referred in lighter vein to the luck of fortune on the part of the previous speaker, who had expressed a willingness to pay for something that he might readily get for nothing. Mr. Burns stated that the Okanagan had always occupied a warm spot in his affections. It was here that his own father had made his first money, which, incidentally, he had afterwards lost in Vancouver. The matter of distribution, referred to by other speakers, had a wider application than to the marketing of produce. In the matter of the dissemination of information, the people of the Okanagan hear a great deal about Vancouver, while Vancouver hear all too little about the Okanagan. Something ought to be done about it.

J. Pringle, of Calgary, was glad to have chosen this time to re-visit the valley which he had seen for the first time 39 years ago, and to renew his acquaintance with his many friends of past years.

Among the real pioneers of the valley is T. N. Hayes, of Larkin,

FRANCHOT TONE, MADGE EVANS, ARE STARRING IN A NEW NEWSPAPER FILM

Straight from the day's headlines and as significant as an "extra" is "Exclusive Story," dramatic new Melting Pot picture starring Madge Evans, Franchot Tone and Madge Evans, commencing on Monday and Tuesday, October 5 and 6, to the Empress Theatre. Primarily a dramatization of an expose of the notorious "Policy Racket" practiced in New York and other metropolitan centers, the new picture weaves into its plot themes from three major news events of the year. They are the "Policy Racket," the Morro Castle Fire and the front page activities of Federal "G" Men. Franchot Tone plays the role of the crusading newspaper attorney, Madge Evans the daughter of a "rookie" reporter, Stuart Erwin the star reporter, Joseph Calleia, the chief gunman.

who has spent more than 60 years in British Columbia. His references to the first Okanagan Valley Fair, in which all the exhibits were displayed on the main floor of the Kalamalka Hotel at Vernon, brought smiles to the faces of those who recalled it in comparison with the exhibition of today. F. E. R. Wollaston called the attention of those present to the fact that Bob Lamey, aged 98, and who has been a familiar figure at past re-unions, had sent his regrets this year, being a patient in the hospital at Kelowna. He wished to assure his friends that he was looking forward to being present at the 1937 reunion.

Joe Harwood also spoke briefly, referring to departed members, whose lives served as a memorial and an inspiration to those who were still carrying on.

The president then called on J. M. Wright to read the list of the names of those who had passed on since the re-union of 1935. The names stood in silence during the reading of the list and for a minute of silent tribute at its close.

Those Called to Rest
The list was as follows: Alfred Ernest Smith, aged 72; John French, 58; William Middleton, 86; Anne Townshend Wilson, 63; Lina Reinhard, 69; Grace Burton Denison, 68; Mary Elizabeth Fulton, 65; Frieda Eubank, 52; Margaret Campbell, 64; Percy Guy Routh, 69; William C. Martin, 82; Donald McLennan, 52; Anne Boletti, 100; Arthur Patrick Cummins, 83; George Postill, 79.

Enderby: Mrs. Fred Barnes, Mrs. Andy Faulkner, Mrs. J. N. Grant, Mrs. J. McMahon, Mrs. Granny George, Arthur B. Boyd, Elmer James Aker, Tom Robinson, Henry Hill, Andy Brown, Frank Miske, W. Hancock, died in Victoria; W. Bailey, died in Toronto; L. B. Massey, Maria; W. Witala, Mara.

Armstrong: Mrs. George Lynn, 78; Charles T. Schubert, 67; Len W. Fatten, 90; Rebecca E. Harty, 72.

Walker Named President
Following this tribute to departed members, the election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in the unanimous choice of H. M. Walker, of Enderby, as president, and A. J. Fifer, Armstrong, as secretary.

The singing of the National Anthem brought to a close the formalities of another happy reunion, echoes of further reminiscences being heard on all sides as the members departed in small groups to enjoy the entertainment features of the afternoon program.

PENTICTON STARTS A "SAFETY DRIVE" TO CURB ACCIDENTS

Mounting Death Toll Through-out Province Is Emphasized By Police

PENTICTON, B.C., Sept. 28.—Endeavoring to stop the mounting death toll due to auto accidents, the Provincial Police have been making a close check-up on cars and drivers for some months now. A tour of the province is being made by officials of the motor traffic branch, in charge of Inspector G. A. Hood.

This safety campaign group reached Penticton on Wednesday night, September 23. Commencing on Thursday, and continuing on Friday the officers in the group flagged down motorists passing through a section of Main Street, immediately north of Eckhard Avenue. During the daylight hours, brakes were tested. At night lights were examined.

Inspector Hood has given some figures regarding the increase in accidents occurring in B.C. In addition, the Inspector pointed out some of the "home truths" in connection with his work, as well as some of the deductions that had been arrived at as a result of an analysis of accidents in B.C., these being an echo of like conditions in other parts of the continent.

On Straight Stretches
To begin with, it was shown that during the summer months of this year, something like 70 to 75 per cent. of the accidents occurred on straight stretches of the highway, under good driving conditions and weather. Most of the drivers involved in such accidents had had more than five years driving experience. The answer to this, the Inspector clearly pointed out, was excessive speed, as well as either defective brakes or glaring headlights, which so blinded an oncoming driver he could not tell what he was doing.

In order to give some idea of the enormous increase in accidents and damage done, the officer showed comparative figures for periods of 1935 and 1936, taking the period from January to July in each instance.

The following figures will give a graphic idea of the increase: In a comparison of the two six-month periods as from January to July, 1935 and January to July, 1936, it was found that the number of accidents had increased from 1634 to 1943, 18.9 per cent.; the number of persons injured had jumped from 918 to 1166, 27 per cent.; deaths rose from 38 to 41, 7.9 per cent.; while the damage to property went up $44,000 to $160,880, an increase of 37.9 per cent. The number of automobiles on the road

SEVEN NATURALIZATIONS GRANTED IN COURT HERE

Seven naturalization applications were approved in County Court last week by Judge J. D. Swanson. Qualifications of those applying for Canadian citizenship were especially high, it is said.

Following are the names: Ludwig Dase, Vernon, farm laborer, born in Poland; Mrs. Wendie H. E. Hagsted, Mabel Lake, widow, born in Sweden; Anton Donald, Lavington, sheep rancher, born in Germany; Gustav Schultz, Mabel Lake, farmer, born in Poland; Joseph Kogler, Lavington, farmer, born in Austria; Walter Soehnle, Vernon, salesman, born in Germany; August Kiser, Lavington, sheep rancher, born in Germany.

during that period had only increased 7.4 per cent.

In addition to local officers, those who are assisting Inspector Hood in the check-up include Sergeant McDonald, of Vancouver; Sergeant MacNaughton, of Victoria; and Constable Locke, of Victoria.

HULLCAR LITERARY SOCIETY SPONSORS ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

DEEP CREEK, B.C., Sept. 28.—The monthly meeting of the Hullcar Literary Society was held in the hall on Friday evening last with a fairly good attendance. An excellent program was given which consisted of songs by Hedley Stevenson, of Enderby; Mrs. S. E. Kenney and Harry Smith, as well as piano selections by Laurie King, of Salmon Arm; Miss Winnifred Douglas, of Hullcar, and several Scotch selections on the accordion by Mrs. T. Couper. Rev. J. Currie Thompson, of Enderby, gave an exceptionally good address on "Psychology of the Mind," which was indeed very interesting. At the conclusion of the program the election of officers for the season took place, A. D. Forbes being re-elected president; Harry Smith, vice president; Miss E. P. Pringle, secretary; Mrs. E. Barber, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Hector Ford, of Edmonton, who have been visiting the farm's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Ford, of Knob Hill, returned to the Alberta city by motor on Saturday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Richards, of Rossland, are at present visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. T. E. Couper, and will return to the Kootenay mining city the end of this week.

Councillor William Parker and Mrs. Parker, of Hullcar, attended the municipal convention held in Vernon last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Forbes and family were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. D. Lawson.

C. Hoover's threshing outfit, of Armstrong, is busy this week threshing in the Creek.

Word has been received from Miss Page, chief librarian for the Union libraries, that the books for the Hillcrest district library will be delivered between October 15 and 20.

OLIVER ASSISTS STRICKEN PRAIRIE

OLIVER, B.C., Sept. 26.—This valley's contribution to the drought-stricken farmers of Saskatchewan will be two carloads of fruits and vegetables, according to the local committee who anticipate no difficulty in raising this amount of produce. One carload is to be shipped from Oliver Thursday, Oct. 1, and the other from Osoyoos at a later date.

Representatives of churches, packing houses, fraternal organizations, board of trade, and other societies, met last Thursday evening and formed a committee to handle the drive for relief supplies from Oliver and Osoyoos.

Representatives were prompt in their willingness to aid the drought-stricken Saskatchewan farmers, and a general appeal to all residents of the two districts is now being made. Rev. F. E. Briscall is chairman of the committee and J. H. Mitchell secretary-treasurer.

VERNON AND LUMBY PYTHIAN SISTERS HOLD JOINT MEETING

LUMBY, B.C., Sept. 27.—A joint meeting of the Vernon and Lumby Temples of Pythian Sisters took place in Lumby at Ormsby's Hall on Monday evening, on the occasion of the visit of the Grand Chief, Charlotte Hatch.

Vernon Joins With Rest of Valley In Effort To Assist Drought-Stricken Prairies

The chairman asked Mr. Hayden to read the correspondence from Premier Patterson, of Saskatchewan, and from the Saskatchewan Voluntary Relief Committee, of which Rev. Dr. Doresay is chairman and W. W. Champ, Regina, secretary.

Certain of these appeals had also come to Rev. Mr. Gibson and Rev. Dr. Davies who had helped with Saskatchewan Relief, along with the Elks and a temporary Vernon and District Committee in 1934.

These appeals, by wire and letter stressed the acute need of fruit, vegetables and canned goods in Saskatchewan's drought areas. There was also correspondence from the Prairie Relief Committee at Kelowna, which is a permanent organization, pledging co-operation.

Chairman Whitehead reviewed the situation in Saskatchewan and referred to the front page editorial in "The Vernon News" of the 24th, which described the needs in such terms that he was sure these required no emphasizing by him. The chairman told of what was being done elsewhere in the Interior. Kelowna and district were planning to send five cars this week; Penticton and district sympathizers had met on the 23rd and had set 20 cars as their objective. The 27 Locals of the B.C.P.F.A. were actively supporting the campaign with President A. K. Loyd leading their drive.

The chairman said that the question was whether a permanent committee should be set up for Vernon and district so that organization could be got under way at short notice at any time this was necessary.

The chairman called on Ald. Townrow, who said that Vernon and district should do something to help the drought victims on the Prairies. Apples and small onions and carrots, now in the fields, could be collected. As chairman of the Civic Relief Committee, he thought he could get ten or twelve men to help with this work. Perhaps packing could be done free. Hauling, as the chairman had explained, could be paid for by arrangement with the Saskatchewan government.

Mr. Peters agreed that something should be done by Vernon and district. Although unfortunately the North Okanagan had been hit hard by winter tree damage, he thought that donations of fruit and vegetables and of cash to acquire fruit and vegetables, could be secured. "The cash contributions let us in on account of culls being in demand for canning, we have to consider the local industrial side."

Mr. Bulman thought there were lots of apples available that were not come to the canneries. On the other hand if the culls were taken for the Prairies "we would hurt our local wage earners' welfare. There is a market in the canneries for all culls and we cannot count on more than two-thirds of last year's supply although, we are going almost to the international border to get culls."

Mr. Bulman said he could promise a car of cull apples, which, while not suitable for canning, would be the offer with thanks.

The chairman then said the committee would call on him and accept the offer with thanks.

Mr. Whitehead asked if it would be worth while picking apples still left on the trees after the commercial crop had been taken off.

Mr. Watson said there were few wealthies after the second picking and it would not pay to pick this remainder. The stuff on the ground was bruised and broken and would hardly be worth while going over.

Mr. LeGuen was of the same opinion. The trouble was that this relief was too late starting, although this was not the fault of anyone locally, as the permission from the railways to transport cars free had only been received last Monday, Sept. 21. Could the packing houses help? Vegetables, small onions, could be picked up in the fields and later cabbage might be available.

"We felt that the packing houses should not be pressed as the canning plant here needs all the culls," remarked the chairman.

"We are getting twice as many apples from outside the Vernon district as we are locally. We are getting more from the Kelowna district than from Vernon. Nevertheless we must all help and we must see what we can do," said Mr. Bulman.

"The wealthies left on my trees have been falling heavily but if the Boy Scouts come out tomorrow, I think they might get 50 boxes by picking," declared Mr. Freeman.

Mr. Freeman added that it would be a mistake to send bad fruit, which happened unintentionally two years ago. He was sure his neighbors in the Lavington area would all help.

The chairman said it was very true what Mr. Freeman said about sending poor stuff. The fruit and vegetables

Seeks Spanish Peace

W. R. Morrison, financial secretary to the British treasury and chairman of the inter-departmental committee, who is chairman of the committee which is seeking to force peace in Spain through cutting off supplies of all armaments.

should be sound. It seemed to him that if a general appeal were made, fruit and vegetables could be assembled without interfering with industry, which was one of the last things the Saskatchewan government wished to do.

Mr. Peters suggested that each district be asked to appoint a committee to handle that district. "In Vernon we could organize a drive for funds to acquire fruit and vegetables." He said that a Central Committee with outside districts appointing committees to work with the Central Committee should be organized.

This would be the nucleus of a continuing committee, it was pointed out.

It was moved by Mr. Peters, seconded by Rev. Mr. Gibson, "That a permanent Prairie Drought Relief Committee be organized," and the motion carried.

"It is important that the chairman and secretary be permanent. This year the call came too late. If we had a committee functioning we could have been collecting as the wealthy season opened," stated Mr. LeGuen.

"For some time quiet work in securing relief has been done by the churches but we have felt that a permanent committee was necessary," Mr. Gibson remarked.

It was then moved by Mr. LeGuen, seconded by Mr. Watson, that Geoffrey Whitehead be chairman, and also moved by Mr. Peters, seconded by Ald. Townrow, that C. A. Hayden be secretary. Capt. H. P. Coombes was selected as treasurer.

President Peters said that contributions would be received by Capt. Coombes at the Vernon Board of Trade office. Mr. Hayden said that W. S. Harris had instructed him that "The Vernon News" would be glad to receive contributions at its office and to acknowledge all contributions in its columns, if the committee so desired. Mr. Whitehead said that the banks would, he believed, be glad to receive contributions. Mr. Whitehead said that two contributions had already been received, Canon W. B. Parrott had sent a cheque for $20.00 and Captain Williams, now in hospital, $5.00. Mrs. Bazzell, 827 Mara Avenue, had written that she would be glad to help any time except Wednesday and Friday mornings. This was a fine start. Mr. Peters said that when vegetables were considered seven or eight district committees were needed.

Mr. Bulman said semi-ripe tomatoes should be available.

Mr. White said that the only thing packing house men can do is circulate their growers and see what they can do. The packing house men could look after their own growers. "In the past we could do quite a bit ourselves but tonight the situation is different. We could take care of circulating our growers ourselves."

Rev. Lim Yuen said, "I will undertake to see the Chinese growers and ask them to help. I believe they will be willing to help with vegetables, of which there is a lot still in the fields. When do you want them? Let me know and I'll see the growers."

Mr. White pointed out that the packing houses were crammed and that storage space for any length of time could not be arranged at this season with the Mac rush on. It would not be wise to have odd bits coming in. The stuff should be brought in at a certain time and the cars loaded and cleared away at once. Mr. Reader said what is needed is a main assembly place.

Mr. Stewart and Mrs. Porter, from their experience in Saskatchewan and from letters from relatives and friends told of the painful conditions which existed in the drought areas. People in the Okanagan could not understand these conditions unless they saw them and did not really know how fortunate they are. "There is not a leaf of lettuce nor a blade of grass," Mrs. Porter said.

The chairman explained that the Committee would get donations of cars from the Saskatchewan Relief Committee. The railways would be similarly instructed and would move the cars promptly when loaded. There would be no demurrage. The Saskatchewan government was allowing $60 a car, if this was needed, for any expenses that might be necessary.

The chairman said it would be a good idea if there were someone in each district to whom inquiries could be directed. The press and the radio, CKOV, have promised full co-operation "and we have to work fast as time is short."

THREE ROBBERIES HERE ON MONDAY

Walter Patton, buttermaker at the creamery plant, discovered the office door glass had been smashed in, at about the same time, but the safe was not touched and everything else in the plant was as it had been left on Saturday.

The "jobs" are said by police to have been in all probability done by men travelling through in an auto. The city was particularly quiet over the week end with few transients or suspicious characters on the streets.

It is thought that the men tackled the creamery plant first. Entrance was gained by forcing a sliding bolt in the boiler room door, and the exit was from the rear doors, facing the railway tracks.

Probably finding that the safe, which is of a modern type, would prove extremely difficult and perhaps impossible to open, the men left the plant undisturbed and proceeded to the new Well & Well building, say police, reconstructing the thieves' movements.

After breaking glass in the side door, the robbers hammered off the combination and used a punch to push the tumblers back. The safe stood close to another large one, which was apparently not touched.

Both attempts were made after 4 o'clock in the morning at that time Constable Wales, on night patrol, examined both premises. The men were in all probability disturbed while attempting to open the safe as they had partially pushed the tumblers back.

Four years ago a safe in Nell & Nell's plant was opened and a considerable sum of money was taken on that occasion, together with clothing and firearms.

Diesel Opportunities

Never before has any field offered such opportunities to the mechanically inclined young man as does the Diesel. Diesel sales have increased several hundred percent during the past three years and Diesel is now fully established as the most economical prime mover in existence. Railroads, Buses, Trucks, Tractors, Utility and Industrial Plants, Marine Aviation, etc., are all turning to Diesel power.

Naturally, this mammoth industry requires competent mechanics and operators. We have been successfully training men in Diesel for five years and the number of our graduates now established in Diesel work is ample proof of our training methods.

This school is equipped with the latest assembly of Diesel Engines in Canada for training purposes and our training is endorsed by the Diesel industry.

Write for free and interesting publication "Diesel News" and particulars of our Day, Night and Home Study Courses.
